

SEPTEMBER'S HERE!

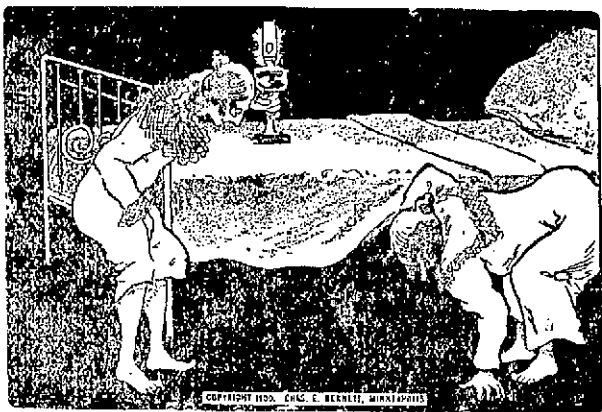

ITS an ideal month, the nights are cool and the crisp air is delightful with this first fall month. Business crosses a trade line to anticipate what men want in is almost a science. Anybody with money can fill a store with goods but it takes the right kind of goods to fill it with people.

The Fall Fashions are fully set, the three button sack, the straight front round sack and the two and three button double breasted sacks are accepted styles for business and general wear. Then for semi-dress is the cutaway with fancy trousers. Suits from $5 to $20 or any sopping point between.

WAS A GOOD EXHIBIT

WOOD COUNTY AT STATE FAIR

Took Seventh Place and Showed up Favorably with Surrounding Displays.

The exhibit made by Wood county at the state fair was a very creditable one and won seventh place among the exhibits made by counties. This may indeed be considered good, as those who had the exhibit in charge were comparatively new at anything of this kind, and knew very little of how to go about preparing for an occasion of this kind, while other counties that were represented had made exhibits every season for a number of years, and those who had charge of the matter were old hands at the business.

Will Nash, who assisted in taking care of the exhibit, states that the people of Wood county have reason to feel proud of the showing that was made, even if the county did not get first place. He stated that it was evident that other counties had begun on the preparation of their exhibit a year ahead and as a consequence they had been able to select better specimens, but that in many instances the manner in which they were prepared made a great deal of difference in the appearance.

It was evident at a glance that other counties had expended a great deal of work in preparing their exhibit so as to improve the showing that would be made over a county that only brought the stuff and put it up without extra preparation. The attendance at the fair was large at nearly every session and the number of people that saw what can be raised in Wood county was greater than ever viewed our products in the same length of time before, and there is no doubt of the impression that would be produced on any person who was looking for a place to make his future homes for agricultural purposes.

Wood county's exhibit received a prize of $70 as a whole, which was very well, indeed, considering the preparation that was made, and our people should begin early next year and endeavor to make a much better showing. The money expended is surely a small matter considering the benefit that is derived, and it could not be spent in a more beneficial manner.

Played at New London.

The baseball boys went to New London on Sunday and played a game with the team over there which resulted in a victory for the New London team by a score of 4 to 1.

The game was a good one from start to finish and had the home boys not made a costly error that let in three runs, the score at the end of the ninth inning would have been a tie. However the boys report that they made their one run on an error also.

The New London team is a very strong one, having beaten all the principal teams in that locality with ease, and they paid our boys the compliment of saying that they put up the strongest game that had been played there by a visiting team this summer. Following is the line up:

Grand Rapids.	New London.
Peterson.....catcher.....	Ellison.....
Alex Bandelin.....pitcher.....	Porter.....
A. Bandelin.....short stop.....	Cline.....
Madhoney.....3rd base.....	Sullivan.....
Wagner.....right field.....	Miller.....
Hubrey.....1st base.....	Carley.....
Akey.....2nd base.....	O'Hara.....
Umpire—C. M. Jelf.

The boys report that they expect to get a game here before the season is over either with Marshfield or Wausau, although no definite information can be given at this time.

Burt Williams for Congress.

At the congressional convention held at Wausau on Saturday Burt Williams of Ashland was nominated for congress in the 10th district. Mr. Williams is a man of ability and is fairly well known throughout the district, and wherever he is known he is liked, and there is no question but that he will make as good a run for the office as any man the democrats could put up.

There were several aspirants for the office but Mr. Williams was the favorite from the first, and at the first ballot there was no question but what he would be the choice of the convention. Mr. Williams is a young man, but is mayor of the city in which he resides, and what speaks well for him is the fact that he is well liked in his own town. The Tribune heartily endorses the nomination of Mr. Williams and the voters of the 10th district who are in favor of an honest and clean government will do well to cast their ballot for him on election day.

BURGLARY AT PITTSVILLE.

Postoffice Safe Blown Open and Riddled of Contents.

On Sunday night or Monday morning the postoffice at Pittsville was entered by burglars and the safe blown open and the contents, amounting to about one hundred and fifty dollars in cash and stamps, taken.

Those who viewed the work done pronounced it to be that of professionals. The back door of the postoffice had been opened, after which a small hole had been drilled in the safe and a quantity of explosive introduced. The hole had then been plugged up with soap and the charge exploded.

A quantity of clothing had been piled around the safe to deaden the sound and the charge of nitro-glycerine had been so nicely calculated that the door of the safe had been nicely torn from its fastenings without any superfluous strength being used.

Nobody heard the explosion when the safe was blown, so it cannot be told just when the burglary did occur, but it is supposed to have taken place early Monday morning. Nothing in the store was disturbed by the burglars, although there was much merchandise at hand that could have been easily carried away. The burglars seemed to be only looking for cash or its equivalent, and governed themselves accordingly.

The sheriff was notified of the burglary as soon as it was discovered, and although he went to the scene of the crime and was assisted by the local authorities nothing could be discovered that would lead to the discovery of who the perpetrators were.

Death of Stephen Brazeau.

On Saturday afternoon occurred the death of Stephen Brazeau, one of the old residents of Grand Rapids and Wood county, in the 71st year of his age, death being caused by a complication of diseases and the effects of a stroke of paralysis which he sustained several years ago.

Mr. Brazeau was born at Montreal, Canada, on the 17th of February, 1832. His parents died when he was an infant and he lived with an aunt at Montreal until he was 17 years of age. He then came to the United States, locating at Buffalo, N. Y., where he learned the trade of wig making and barbering.

When he was 19 years of age he came west and located at Chicago, where he worked at his trade. He owned several places of business in the city of Chicago, but as the future of the city did not appear very bright at that time he sold out eventually, disposing of property for a nominal sum that is today worth millions.

Mr. Brazeau came to Northern Wisconsin in 1867, just about thirty-five years ago, and settled on the west side of the river, which then consisted of only a few houses and did not have a very promising outlook. He opened a barber shop here and at that time was the only man of his trade in this locality, and since that time he has lived here continuously, following his trade until 1893 when he retired from active life and made his home with his son Ed.

Soon after his retirement he was stricken with an attack of paralysis, from the effects of which he never fully recovered. He was able to get around, however, for some years until he had another attack about five years ago, which almost totally incapacitated him. In spite of his ailments he enjoyed comparatively good health until he was stricken about a week ago with other ailments, which in his weakened condition he was unable to withstand.

Mr. Brazeau was married in Chicago in 1855 to Margaret Brady. Fourteen children were the result of this union, ten of which are still living. Mrs. Brazeau having died in 1892. The children living are Frank and Ed of Nekeosa, William and George of Port Edwards, Irving and Theodore of this city, Stephen, who is a student at the Ann Arbor medical college, Mrs. John Canning and Mrs. Charles Quinn of this city, and Mrs. George Zenier of Asotin, Washington. All or the children were present at the bedside of their father when the end came excepting Mrs. Zenier.

The funeral was held on Monday morning at nine o'clock from the Catholic church of which faith Mr. Brazeau had been a lifelong member.

Chicken Pie Social.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will give a chicken pie supper next Tuesday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock in the parlors of the M. E. church, for the purpose of raising the debt on the 20th Century Place. Everyone cordially invited and especially those interested in keeping open the reading rooms. Price of supper, 25c.

Baseball Sunday.

CAUGHT IN THE TOILS

JACK THE HUGGER CAPTURED

Promises to Reform and Leave the City and is Released.—Other Items of Interest.

On Tuesday evening Officer Garihee caught a man who is supposed to be the Jack the hugger who has put in his spare time evenings in terrifying our young ladies by catching them in secluded spots and hugging them.

The man had accosted two girls near the fair grounds on Tuesday evening and made as if he was going to take hold of them, but they managed to elude him and continued on their way down town and informed the chief of police of the incident. Mr. Garihee instructed the girls to wait down town for a short while and in the mean time he would go to the scene of operations and when the girls came back if the fellow showed himself he would be on deck to capture him.

This program was carried out and when the girls got back near the south side of the fair grounds the man was there. He followed them a short distance but before he had laid hands on them the officer came up behind and captured him.

The man turned out to be Jerome Haskins, who hails from Plainfield of that vicinity and has been hanging about the city for some time past. Haskins is an old offender, having served one term in state prison for having placed an obstruction on the railroad track with the evident intention of wrecking a train.

He was placed in jail over night but next morning when an attempt was made to find a case against him it was impossible to do so, as none of the girls who had been hugged were able to identify him positively. He did admit, however, that he was trying to "catch" the girls whom he had accosted near the fair grounds. He promised faithfully to leave the city if he was released from jail, and being unable to make a case against him he was released this morning.

Meat Market Change.—A deal was consummated last week between Nicholas Reiland and Dounnick Reiland and Owen J. Love whereby the latter two gentlemen become the owners of the meat market on the west side known as Reiland's market. The new firm will be known as D. Reiland & Co. and the business of selling meat will be carried on the same as before. Mr. Love, who hails from Merrill, has for some time past been employed in the market of M. McCarthy, so is already known to a large number of our citizens. He expects to remove his family from Merrill to this city in the near future. Everybody knows Dounnick Reiland, so he needs no introduction to our people, and there is no doubt but what the new firm will succeed in their venture.

A Pleasant Evening.—In response to invitations issued by the Epworth League to our teachers, the board of education and their wives, and the students who are attending our high schools for the first time, a merry company assembled in the M. E. church parlors last Friday evening. The Epworth colors, red and white, were tastefully draped about the rooms, while potted plants and flowers added their charm to the scene. Light refreshments were served during the evening, after which Superintendent Youker gave a short toast, to which the only response made was the appreciation of those present. Many old fashioned games added to the pleasure of the evening, which will remain a pleasant memory to those present.

Marshfield Street Fair.—Thursday of next week commences the Marshfield street fair, and the different committees are busily engaged in closing up the work as rapidly as possible. Among the many attractions that have been engaged for are balloon ascensions daily by the famous Belmont sisters, a diving dog, a slide for life, Siegfried's beautiful hall of fame, the spectacular Eruption of Mount Pelee, statue turning to life, wonderful flying lady, Canadian giant, the spotted family, streets of Cairo with their camels and donkeys, civic, military, floral and industrial parades, three bands of music. Excursion rates on all railroads.

20th Century Place Closed.—The 20th century place on the east side has been closed temporarily by members of the W. C. T. U., but they expect to open the place again in the near future, probably inside of two weeks. In the interval the members of the order expect to find a more suitable place for the location of the place, which is one of the reasons for closing. With its re-establishment it will probably receive a new name and some changes made in the way of conducting it.

Will Return Here.—W. A. Peterson, who has had charge of the Methodist church in this city during the past two years, has been reassigned to this city by the conference for another year. This fact will prove welcome news to the members of the congregation as during the two years he has been here he has not only won the love and respect of his associates, but has also proven himself an earnest and energetic worker for the advancement of the church.

E. F. U. Doings.—The members of the Equitable and Fraternal Union will initiate several members into their order on Saturday evening, on which occasion there will be music and dancing and refreshments. Members of the order are requested to be present and participate in the festivities.

Shipping Chickens.—A car of chickens was shipped from this city Thursday, and judging from the number of farm wagons of all sorts and descriptions that were lined up at the railroad track the country folks take to the matter readily. If any considerable proportion of the fowls were layers we may look for an egg famine later on. There were so many at the car at one time that they had to line up and wait their turn, which generally took considerable time.

Some Heavy Frosts.—Two heavy frosts visited this section on Thursday and Friday nights of last week. During a talk with B. M. Vaughn, who suffers somewhat by the freeze, that gentleman stated that the cold was something unusual for this time of the year, and that during the fifteen years that he has been interested in agricultural matters he has not known of so heavy a frost at that time of the year. Many of the tender vegetables were killed by the freeze.

A Band Dance.—The members of the Grand Rapids band will give a dance at the opera hall on Thursday evening, October 2nd, to which the public generally is invited. The band boys promise a good time and as the full band will furnish the music there is no reason why everybody should not have a good time. The dance is for the benefit of the band and tickets will be sold at one dollar each, spectators twenty-five cents.

Buying Potatoes.—The potato buyers in this section started up on Monday morning purchasing tubers for southern market, the price offered being 20 cents per bushel. This is rather a low figure, but those interested report that large shipments have been received every day in the southern market. Very little stock is coming in at this price.

Business Change.—Max Steinberg of the east side has purchased the second hand store on the west side from Jake Smuckler, and will hereafter conduct the establishment himself. Mrs. Smuckler informs us that everything will be as quiet as a graveyard on the flowery now that she and the children are going to leave.

Marriage Licenses.—The county clerk issued marriage licenses to the following parties during the past week: William Sallow and Anna Ahrens, both of the town of Richfield. Leon J. Lignan of the town of Carson, Portage county and Miss Mary Konop of the town of Milladore.

McKinley Service.—A large congregation assembled at the Congregational church on Sunday evening to hear the service preached by Pastor Shaw commemorative of the late William McKinley. The sermon was a good one and was highly appreciated by those in attendance.

Democratic Caucuses.—The caucuses for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention occur on Saturday night at the various polling places in the city, and all good democrats are requested to turn out and appoint a delegate from their ward.

To Catch Burglars.

Charles Dougharty and Bert Gitchell have purchased the patent right for six counties for the handling of a new burglar alarm system, which, if anything can be judged by the way it works, promises to revolutionize the burgling business altogether.

The system is so arranged that it is connected with all the doors and windows of a house, and after the place has been shut up for the night it will be pretty hard for any person to get in without notifying those inside.

The thing works by electricity and if the knob on one of the doors is even turned or if a window is raised so much as an inch the inmates of the house are notified of the fact by the continuous ringing of a six inch gong that makes noise enough to raise the dead.

The system can also be used in the daytime to notify the people in the house when any person enters a door, as it can be set so that it will give only a short ring when a door is opened, so that the system is useful both night and day if the owner cares to make use of it.

The bell responds to the touch of an intruder so quickly that it is not necessary for a door to be opened, but rings simply upon the turning of the knob and continues to ring if the door is opened until someone gets up and either chokes it off or closes the door. The system can be placed in a store down town and the wires led to the residence of the owner, so that he will be notified of any attempt to enter the place of business during the night.

Taken altogether the system is very complete and parties who are in need of anything of the sort should see Messrs. Dougharty and Gitchell and have the system explained to them and see the working model of the same. It is worth examining if you have nothing to steal.

Announcement.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Wood county, subject to the action of the democratic county convention, and if nominated and elected I shall exert my best efforts to discharge the duties of the office as they should be done.

FORMING A PAPER TRUST.

Chicago Brokers Engineering Plan for Combine of Mills.

AFTER STATE PROPERTY

Promoters are Trying to Buy the Principal Lands in the Fox River Valley.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—A proposition which may result in another immense paper mill trust is now being considered by the manufacturers in the Fox River valley, who have been approached by a firm of Chicago brokers and asked to grant options for the sale of all their papermill interest throughout the state. The trust will not only include the mills of this valley and state, but will also take in Minnesota and Michigan. The new combine will be known as the American Consolidated Paper Company and will be capitalized at $50,000,000. The options, if granted, will hold good until January 1, 1903.

According to John Strange of Oshkosh, formerly connected with the John Strange Paper Company of Neenah, it is the intention of the combine to include all the papermill property in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan. In case it is found impossible to include the mills of the latter state, and options can be secured on the mills of Wisconsin and Minnesota, the project will respectively be furthered and include merely the mills of these two states.

A number of local manufacturers who willingly relinquish their interests could they secure the price, but it is understood that some of the leading papermill men in the valley would refuse the proposition for any figure which the trust capitalists are likely to offer. The entire matter is still in its infancy and nothing definite has been stated. Some of the local mill men have not yet been approached, while others have expressed themselves as being opposed to the movement.

BONDS ARE ILLEGAL.

State Holds $250,000 of Securities Which Were Issued Without Any Legal Right.

West Superior, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—The state is vitally interested in a suit against the city of Superior now pending in the supreme court. It is that of the United National Bank against the city, the bank suing on bonds. In the lower court here Judge Vinje held that these bonds, supposedly issued as a special obligation and not a general obligation against the city, were a general obligation. That was what the bank wanted, but the court did not stop there, he went on and said that if these bonds were a general obligation the city had no right to issue them in the manner it did, making the levy for them. The bank appealed this. The state of Wisconsin has $250,000 of bonds similar to those in this case, they having been purchased during the Peck administration with money from the state educational fund as a means of investing the money.

GIRLS GET TOO GAY.

Young Women Too Vigorous in Charivari Demonstration at La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 1.—[Special.]—Additional warrants were issued today in the case brought by the father of Mrs. Emil Waters, a bride, against numerous fair young lady friends of Mrs. Waters and her new husband, because it is alleged they were too vigorous in their demonstrations of joy at the charivari on the wedding night.

Ida Williams, May and Maggie Bailey, Mrs. Grove, Anna Burrow, Hilda Jacobs, Anna Hinzicker and Frankie Adams have now been summoned to appear in the criminal court.

The most serious charge is that of breaking the windows in the house, pulling down the curtains and smashing some furniture. They will plead not guilty.

A. J. HAYWARD RETURNS.

Prominent Lumberman Comes to This State from Washington.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—A. J. Hayward, one of the early loggers on the Chippewa river and after whom the city of Hayward, in Sawyer county, is named, arrived here from Seattle, Wash., yesterday, to close up a deal for the purchase of a large tract of pine in Washington, owned by a syndicate of which Frederick Weyerhaeuser is the head. It will be several days before the deal will be closed.

DRIVER ESTATE IN COURT.

Heirs Are Fighting Over the Disposition of $600.

Racine, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—There is a hotly contested case now on in the circuit court. The attorneys for the executors of the Thomas Driver estate recently sold the homestead to pay up a mortgage. There was $600 over the amount of the mortgage and this sum was turned over to Thomas and Sineira Driver, the executors. Now the other heirs have brought suit to have the money turned over to the trustee, Charles R. Carpenter.

FALLS FROM A TRAIN.

Young Man So Badly Hurt He Dies Soon
After Being Found.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—A young man giving Alfred Lowell as his name and with a ticket on his person showing La Crosse to be his destination was picked up along the track of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road near Peterson so badly injured that he died a short time after. He claimed to have a sister at La Crosse, and had a seaman's certificate in his pocket. He fell from a train and was run over.

MAN CUT TO PIECES.

New Theater and Hotel for Kenosha.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—Contracts have been let for the erection of the Palace hotel and theater in this city, which is to be built by the Pabst Brewing Company of Milwaukee. The building will cost more than $300,000.

LAWRENCE STUDENTS MUST BE VERY GOOD.

No Dancing will be Allowed and Permission to Go Out Evenings Must be Secured.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—The faculty of Lawrence University has decided to start the new school year with a new strict code of rules for students than has been in vogue for years and every rule, it is announced, will be strictly enforced. Hitherto the men students have been allowed to visit theaters or to go to parties when they desired. While up to this year the strict supervision of the classes of entertainment attended by students has been limited to the young women students at Ormsby hall, this year the men living at private houses are also to be kept in restraint and will not be allowed to go out in the evening without getting permission. Dancing, it is understood, will be strictly forbidden.

RAISE TOBACCO IN MARATHON COUNTY.

The Experiment Shows New Possibilities for the Farmers in Northern Wisconsin.

Wausau, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—As an experiment, the Fenwood Lumber Company last spring planted two acres of its farm near Fenwood to tobacco and a crop of it has just been harvested amounting to about 10,000 pounds. Sheds have been erected for the curing process and an expert is now on the grounds to see that the crop is properly cured, after which the value can be determined. For the benefit of the farmers who desire where tobacco can be raised in Northern Wisconsin the company has through the season kept an itemized account of all expenditures in raising the crop.

TWO MEN FALL WITH SWINGING SCAFFOLD.

Rope Breaks and Painters Have a Narrow Escape from Being Dashed to Death.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—A rope holding a swinging scaffold upon which two painters, Harry Hunt and George Kammacher, were at work at the South Side Manufacturing Company's mill, broke yesterday. Kammacher fell thirty-five feet to the roof of the boiler room and narrowly escaped being fatally injured. His arm was broken. Hunt grabbed a hook and hung on until employees pulled him through a window.

CARRIES OPPOSITION TO MARRIAGE TO GRAVE.

William Engel Cut Off Son's Widow and Leaves Bequest to Woman of His Choice.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—The will of William Engel, just filed, divides an estate valued at $400,000 among distant relatives. He had opposed the marriage of his son, Col. Frederick Engel, formerly prominent in Wisconsin politics, and the latter's widow is cut off in the will. A legacy of $500 is given to Miss Edith Garst of Chicago, whom his father had desired him to marry. The widow, Col. Engel, it is said, will contest the will.

AGED MAN CAPSIZES WHILE OUT BOATING.

A Big Shorthorn Sale.

The interesting features on the grounds today were the sale of representative shorthorn stock and the annual cavalcade of premium stock, given before the grand stand this morning.

The shorthorn sale was largely attended by farmers from all parts of the state and a large number of young cattle of the shorthorn breed was sold at very fair prices. The sale was conducted under the auspices of the Wisconsin Shorthorn Breeders' Association, and was an experiment this year. It will be followed in subsequent years by sales of other breeds of Wisconsin cattle.

The best price paid for young shorthorn cows at the sale on the grounds today was $275. The average price paid for twenty-six head of young cows was $230, nearly all of which were bought by Igo, Harford & Co. of Iowa. Several cows were sold to Wisconsin farmers. The best price paid for a bull was $230 for a 10-month-old specimen, and one 6-month-old brought $170. The bulls were not, however, in the very best show condition and they sold slowly.

Cost of Wreck.

The wreck was a great success. Two locomotives named "La Pollette" and "Rose" were started at full speed on a track 1000 feet in length. The engines crashed into each other with great force and both were demolished. The feature gave the spectators an idea of a railway collision.

The actual cost to the state board of giving the railway wreck, to which is attributed the success as to attendance this year, was $4500. Today the wrecked engines were sold, as scrap iron, to Henry Warschauer, a junk dealer on Cherry street, for $1100, so that the actual expense will be a little over $3000.

A Night Show the Attraction Next Year.

"If the Legislature next winter agrees to the idea, we will undoubtedly have a night show next year, giving races by electric light and presenting other attractions by night," said President McKee today this morning. "This feature for next year rests, of course, with the Legislature. State fairs in several states adopted the plan this year and it worked well. I understand there are about 70,000 artissians in Milwaukee who work steadily every week day in the year except the few national holidays.

Hoard is Enthusiastic.

Former Gov. W. D. Hoard and State Senator Barney Eaton were witnesses all over the grounds today. Gov. Hoard declared it was the greatest day, and cheese show he ever saw, and Barney Eaton simply remarked "Plenty of voters around."

Crowds Visit Jahrmarkt.

The Jahrmarkt gotten up by the merchants of the south side of Milwaukee as an auxiliary attraction to the State fair, proved a great success and was visited by crowds of people daily. It is estimated that 50,000 people saw the unique fair on Tuesday, which was the banner day of the market. A drenching rain on Monday night made the opening somewhat a failure, but the fine weather of the following days more than made up for the gloomy start. Every feature that had been advertised was faithfully presented and the promoters of the affair are thoroughly satisfied with the result.

Given Next Year.

A Big Shorthorn Sale.

The interesting features on the grounds today were the sale of representative shorthorn stock and the annual cavalcade of premium stock, given before the grand stand this morning.

The shorthorn sale was largely attended by farmers from all parts of the state and a large number of young cattle of the shorthorn breed was sold at very fair prices. The sale was conducted under the auspices of the Wisconsin Shorthorn Breeders' Association, and was an experiment this year. It will be followed in subsequent years by sales of other breeds of Wisconsin cattle.

The best price paid for young shorthorn cows at the sale on the grounds today was $275. The average price paid for twenty-six head of young cows was $230, nearly all of which were bought by Igo, Harford & Co. of Iowa. Several cows were sold to Wisconsin farmers. GIVES UP FORTUNE TO WED HIS LOVE.

Scotch Evangelist Marries Indiana Girl and Loses Riches—Coming to Wisconsin to Preach.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 12.—George Angus Wain, a Scotchman who came to this country as an evangelist and preached for some time in the Baptist Church in Barron, Wis., has, by his marriage on Wednesday to Miss Pearl De Normandie of Hammond, Ind., renounced a fortune and his family estates in the fatherland.

During the days of his childhood Wain's mother bore a beautiful Scotch girl into her home as a ward and told her that she married her son when he grew to manhood he would be given the family estate, and that if he wedded another girl he would be disinherited. He valued love above riches, however, and married the girl of his choice. The couple will return to Wisconsin, where Mr. Wain expects to preach.

MAN DISAPPEARS ON EVE OF MARRIAGE.

Collects Money and Starts for Train—Friends Fear He Met with Foul Play.

Readsburg, Wis., Sept. 12.—Harry J. Stebbins, a printer, is missing and his whereabouts is unknown. He left here on August 27 for Blair, Wis., where he was to have married Miss Henrietta Ellison September 3. He went from here to Valley Junction, where he made some arrangements and secured $100. He left the hotel the following morning and started for the depot, which was the last seen of him. The station agent, with whom he was well acquainted, saw nothing of him, and said he was not on the platform when the train pulled out. There are fears of foul play.

EPISCOPAL RECTOR'S TENURE IS FOR LIFE.

The Decision of Bishop Grafton in the Case of Father Frank of Sheboygan.

Pond du Lac, Wis., Sept. 12.—Bishop Grafton has decided that according to the law of the Episcopal Church when a minister is called to the rectorship of a parish and the call is without limitation as to the time the tenure is for life unless terminated by mutual consent or the pastoral relationship is dissolved as provided for in the canons. The decision was in the case of Rev. Edward M. Frank, rector at Sheboygan.

RIPON COLLEGE IS SOON TO REOPEN.

Extensive Improvements Have Been Made
—New Members of the Faculty.

Ripon, Wis., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—Ripon college is making extensive preparations for the opening of the college year, September 24. The conservatory of music has purchased new pianos. A new, modern steam heating plant is being placed in the building. The men's dormitory now being erected will be finished shortly after the term opens. The women's dormitory is being thoroughly furnished throughout. Miss Mary C. Harwood, dean of women and professor of foreign languages, has just returned from a year's study in France. Prof. O. J. Mason, who will begin his work in the chair of history and economics, is moving to Ripon this week. Edmund D. Denison, the new principal of the academy, has returned from his vacation in Colorado. Dr. Hubert G. Shearin is spending his vacation in Kentucky and will move to this city next week to begin his work as professor of English language and literature.

Small Insurance.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—The barn belonging to John Kane, a farmer in the town of Wheaton, was struck by lightning and burned during a severe electrical storm yesterday afternoon. The entire crops of hay and grain, just harvested, were destroyed and the loss will be in the neighborhood of $3500. He had a small insurance in the Eagle Point Insurance Company.

FINDS CRACKMAN'S OUTFIT.

Anton Piese Experiments with Explosives and Loses Fingers.

Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 11.—Anton Piese, a boy of 14, found near Riverside cemetery a carpet bag containing a candle, coils of insulated wire, a dry battery and several cartridges, as well as a pack of cards. The boy undertook to experiment with one of the cartridges, and as a result he is minus part of two fingers and has a severe gash in his breast. The kitchen table upon which he was conducting his investigations was wrecked.

Monday the officers of the bank at Whitesboro found that an attempt had been made to open the vault with dynamite. The police believe the kit found by the Piese boy was left by the Whitesboro robbers.

Milton Junction Man Violates Injunction Order.

IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

Infuriated Husband Has His Spouse's Admirer Cast Into Jail for Disregarding Order.

Janesville, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Thomas Bieble of Milton Junction has been arrested, charged with speaking to Mrs. Louie Gallup in violation of an injunction restraining him from holding any intercourse with the woman. The injunction was secured by John B. Gallup, husband of the woman.

The interested men in the case are both carpenters and at the time they became acquainted both were married men with families. Mrs. Gallup is eleven years younger than her husband, being 26 years old. They have four children. Last winter Bieble appeared on the scene and trouble between the husband and wife began about the same time. Last December Bieble, who is the father of three children, secured a divorce from his wife on the ground of desertion. He then entered Gallup's employ and became acquainted with Mrs. Gallup. Gallup claimed in his petition for the injunction that Bieble made advances which his wife was inclined to accept and that finally he ordered Bieble from his home and forbade his wife speaking to the man of whom he believed, he had a right to be jealous. He alleged that in spite of this the intimacy continued and that on several occasions his wife and her admirer met clandestinely. Gallup then secured an injunction restraining Bieble, his servants, agents and employees, from meeting Louie Gallup or from communicating with her by writing or by signs, or by doing anything to interfere with the marital relations existing between Gallup and his wife.

FIRE AT PRENTICE.

Tipping Over of a Lamp in Hotel Causes
Conflagration in Wisconsin Village.

Prentice, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The accidental tipping over of a lamp in the Columbia hotel this morning caused a fire, which resulted in a loss of $50,000 before it was extinguished. The fire broke out at an early hour and spread rapidly until one whole block had been burned and part of another had been destroyed. The following buildings were consumed:

Owen Bros., general store and dwelling house.
The Columbia hotel.
S. T. Nelson's shoe store.
O. T. Nelson's saloon.
C. Myers' hotel, laundry, barber shop and millinery store.
Emmerson Brothers' office.
Several barns and storerooms.
The total loss is about $50,000, partly insured.

OLYMPIA B. WILLIS LEADS SUFFRAGISTS.

Racine Woman is Elected President of the State Association—Do Not Go Into Politics.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The annual session of the Wisconsin Woman Suffrage Association closed this afternoon. Officers were elected at the morning session as follows:

President—Rev. Olympia Brown Willis, Andover.
Vice president-at-large—Mrs. Jessie N. Luther, Madison.
Recording secretary—Mrs. L. A. Rhodes, Lancaster.
Treasurer—Mrs. Leola Woodward, Platteville.

Only four changes were made in district vice presidents. Resolutions were adopted declaring against child labor and urging women to vote for the constitutional amendment taking the election of the state superintendent out of politics. No action was taken favoring any particular candidate for any office.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

West Superior Engineer is Killed in a Train Wreck on the Great Northern Road.

West Superior, Wis., Sept. 12.—H. T. Miller, residing in this city, an engineer on the Eastern Minnesota branch of the Great Northern, was killed this morning in a wreck near Hibbing, Minn. An ore laden train ran into a loaded freight car which had been switched to the main track from a siding. Miller was crushed beneath his engine, which was overturned with thirteen cars. Traffic will be delayed several hours.

DESTROY RESERVOIR.

The Roof of Building of City Plant at Galesville is Burned.

Galesville, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The roof of the city reservoir was destroyed last night by fire. This is the third time that the building has been fired by incendiaries. Two years ago the woodwork covering the big tank was partially consumed. Arrests were made but the case was dropped. Last January the building was totally destroyed. The contractor had just completed the third roof but had not removed his tools. These were destroyed. The loss is $300.

and the Stove is Badly Wrecked.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Johnny McClellan, aged 10, of Vinegar Hill, accidentally knocked a bottle of powder over on the stove and it exploded, wrecking the top of the stove and destroying the sight of one eye completely and injuring the other.

SCRATCH CAUSES DEATH.

Former Eau Claire Man Succumbs to Blood Poisoning.

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Casper Neherman, aged 60, died at Edgemoor, Kan. He was a pioneer of Eau Claire, but left this city to reside in South Dakota twenty years ago. From there he went to Edgemoor and established bottling works. The remote cause of death was a scratch on his wrist, resulting from the bursting of a bottle. Blood poisoning set in.

GRANDMA'S CONVENTION.

Eighteen Attend a Picnic and Their Combined Age is 1119.

Baraboo, Wis., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—At Loganville there was a unique party at which eighteen grandmas were present and their combined ages was 1119 years. Mrs. Farnsworth received a prize for being the youngest grandmother present and Mrs. Emery for having the most grandchildren. All brought pictures of their grandchildren, which were exhibited, and there was an end of discussion over the various family trees represented.

CHARGES NOT SERIOUS.

Wardens Vote to Stop Minister's Salary
Because He is Too Fond of Bicycle Riding.

Sheboygan, Wis., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—Bishop Grafton of Fond du Lac has sustained Father Leonard Frank, rector of Grace Episcopal Church of this city, in his determination not to resign in accordance with a request from the vestry of the church. No grave charges were laid at the clergyman's door, and the opposition to him seems to be more of a matter of trivial differences between rector and congregation.

Next month he will have concluded his first year's rectorship, and at a meeting Tuesday night the wardens adopted a resolution to cut off his salary after the conclusion of his first year's work. The motion was ruled out of order by the chair, Rector Frank, but on an appeal it was sustained. The congregation is divided, though the younger members stand by the rector, who

That Book Deal.

Last Sunday's Milwaukee Sentinel contained a couple of columns of type explaining the deal by which Superintendent Harvey was beaten for re-nomination at the time of the republican convention at Madison. The book is signed by George Buckstaff of Oshkosh, who engineered the deal, and Senator Stout who was also intimately interested in the matter.

They state positively that they secured the sum of $2,000 from the independent book companies, which sum they turned over to Governor La Follette, who accepted it knowing where it came from and for what purpose it had been obtained. The independent book companies stated that should a man be brought out who would beat Harvey they would contribute an additional five or ten thousand dollars.

It seems that Superintendent Harvey had been favoring the book trust either for financial reasons or otherwise, which are not stated, and the independent concerns wanted a man in the office whom they could handle for awhile, so they governed themselves accordingly.

Now if the independent book companies can afford to contribute the sum of ten or twelve thousand dollars toward the election of a state superintendent, doesn't it look as if somebody was going to get robbed during the next two years provided their man is elected? It looks as if there might have been something of this sort going on in the past but there is no doubt of what would take place in the future.

There is no question but what Mr. La Follette knew why the independent book concerns wanted a change in superintendents in the state of Wisconsin. A man who has been striving for office as long as he has could hardly help knowing it. He knew that they intended to get their ten thousand dollars back later on, and not only get it back but make a profit on the investment. This most rapid half-breed will have to admit this or else claim that their candidate has not got the intelligence of an ordinary schoolboy, which they are hardly able to do in view of what the people have seen of him in the past.

The republican will tell you that this $2,000 contributed by the independent book concerns was only a gift to the campaign fund pure and simple; that all political campaigns have to be staked by somebody in order to carry the work along, and that this deal was only an ordinary one in which there was no fraud by anybody. This is not so. It is a fact that many political campaigns, especially those of the republican party, are carried on by money obtained from the trusts, which expect in return legislation whereby they can get their money back and a good many dollars with it, but the fact that this has been done does not make it right nor lawful.

This deal with the book concerns was exactly the same as if our county superintendent had accepted money from a book manufacturing concern to carry on his campaign, with the understanding that he would make certain loans and recommendations among the school officers of the county by virtue of which the company's books would have to be used to the exclusion of those of other concerns. The people would know that this was crooked work and they would condemn it without hesitation, and there is no reason why the deal made with the governor should not be condemned also.

It may be said that this is not half as bad as many political games that are played every day. This may be so. But in Governor La Follette we have a man who has made all his five years on the ground of his honesty. He has told us of the corruption of others and led us to believe that he and his administration were free from anything of this sort, and this has been repeated so often that the people had almost come to believe it. Wonder if their confidence has been shaken just a trifle by this deal. It has often been said that every man has his price if you can only go high enough, but it would seem that $2,000 was rather a low figure for a governor of Wisconsin to betray one of his fellow officers, after all the hot air he has been giving us about reforming different branches of the state government, reducing the expenditures, tax reform, making the corporations pay their share, etc., etc. Maybe this was the way he figured on making the corporations pay.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford County, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when editor Ward, of Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy, and this time the dose cured me." A GOOD THING

For Human Flesh and Horse Flesh, the Household and Stable Requisite.

Greene's Infalible Liniment is endorsed by heads of families, athletes, horsemen, everybody who has used it, as the best remedy for the household, the stable, the gymnasium and the training quarters.

No other remedy can take its place and do its work so satisfactorily. On man or horse liniment it is used as a "rub-out." It quickly cures the bruises of the pugilist and football player; the strains, sprains, chafes, swellings, lameness or muscle soreness of the bicyclist and the race horse; the hurts of childhood and the accidents and ails of everyday life.

"The rub-out is great stuff. I like it better than anything I ever used." Bob Fitzsimmons.

"I have used Greene's Liniment on my horses, shall never be without it." Wm. A. Pinkerton.

"The best preparation for training purposes.
Keeps the muscles from hardening and relieves all soreness and stiffness." Jos. H. Chappell.

"I find it valuable for bruises, sprains and sore muscles. It is an excellent conditioner." Jos.
J. Corbett.

"Directly, 2-0-3-4, would never have been able to start in '99 if I hadn't used Greene's Liniment.
It kept his legs sound and clean all season. I also used it on Tommy Britton, 2-0-8; Giles Joyce,
2-0-5; Sherman Clay, 2-0-5; Lord Roseberry,
2-10-4; Hartford, Jr., 2-11-4. I am certain that much of the success of these horses was due to Greene's Liniment." Geo. West, (Trainer).

"I have used Greene's Liniment for horses and for my own aches and pains. It is a standard remedy in my family." H. J. Kilbane.

"As a family remedy it is invaluable." J. B.
Jackson.

"In my family it has been used with perfectly satisfactory results." G. F. Moore.

In thousands of homes throughout the land Greene's Infalible Liniment is a "stand-by" that is confidently and satisfactorily used by old and young. There is only one thing more convincing than the testimony of others: that is actual personal experience, then of yourself you know.
This great antiseptic healing remedy that will subdue acute pain in a very few minutes and quickly overcome inflammation and swelling is sold for 25 and 50 cents a bottle. A large size at one dollar is put up for stable use.

All the best druggists keep Greene's Infalible Liniment. Accept no substitute. There is no other liniment that is like it or "just as good."

The makers, J. W. Greene & Co., Chicago, will send a large free sample upon request and facts to cover cost of mailing.

miles a day during his trip. While in Chicago he entered a race on his wheel and made a total of 634 miles in 24 hours, stopping only every one hundred miles to fill his gasoline tank.

Ira Purdy and his two grandsons,
Verne and Lee Rimssey, returned on Saturday from Milwaukee where. Mr.
Purdy had been visiting his sister and attending the state fair. Mr. Purdy mourns the loss of an old and much valued timepiece which he had picked from his pocket one day while in attendance at the fair. As he did not know when he lost the watch nothing could be done toward its recovery.

M. McKinnon states that his company has been shipping wood by rail for some time past, part of it going to Sioux City, Iowa. This unusual proceeding is caused by the scarcity of anthracite coal, which is affecting the price of all kinds of fuel. A better price per cord is received for this hub and spoke wood where it is shipped than right here at home, and all the company has to do is to load it on the cars, while the wood that is sold about town has to be delivered. A raise in the price of wood may be looked for about the 1st of October, and the public should govern themselves accordingly.

—It is probable that there has been no greater strides made in any branch of science during the past years than that of the treatment of the eye. A few years ago when a person had anything the matter with his eyes he was either near sighted or far sighted and the most that could be done was to furnish them with a pair of twenty-five cent glasses and let them go.
If the glasses were poorly fitted and caused the patient all kinds of inconvenience another pair was tried and the patient had to wear them awhile and see if they did not work all right.
Now this has all been changed. Today with the aid of the ophthalmoscope
the skilled optician can look at and into your eye and see what is the trouble and if there is any possibility of relieving your ailment he can do it.
The Ophthalmoscope and Retinoscope is indeed a wonderful instrument and with its use the almost recesses of the eye can be examined and any trouble that exists may be detected at once no matter if it be in the lens of the eye, the retina or the optic nerve. The only instrument of the kind in this section is owned by
A. P. Hirzy, and as he is a graduate optician and an expert on optical matters the instrument naturally proves of great power in his hands.
If you have any trouble with your eyes it would stand you in hand to visit Mr. Hirzy and have him examine you and it is entirely probable that he can correct your trouble and make your vision so that the world will have an entirely different aspect to you.
If you cannot call on him get him by telephone and he will try to get to you and fix you out just the same.

SHORT SIGHT OR MYOPIA.

In this defect the diameter of the eye is too long from front to rear and it is found only among civilized races. Who ever heard of a nearsighted Indian? Persons with this difficulty see perfectly when objects are held near the eyes, but distant objects are dim and often invisible. For instance, a person may be able to read perfectly and yet be unable to see the time on a large dial a few feet distant. Nearsighted children often injure their eyes endeavoring to see during blackboard exercises. It is the duty of teacher to report all such cases to parents and to see that the child is fitted with suitable spectacles. Great care should be taken in the selection of glasses for the nearsighted, as too strong glasses aggravate the trouble and may result in blindness.

Chicago Board Loses Power to Discipline Members for Withholding Margins.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 13.—A most important decision against the Chicago board of trade was rendered today by Judge Chytrons in the "July oats corner" injunction cases. Not only does the opinion of the court, if sustained by higher tribunals, put an end to all corners in commodities on this exchange, but it strikes at the very life of the institution as now organized. The directors for all time have had their powers so curtailed that they cannot longer adjudicate upon property rights of the members of the association.

The case in question was one brought by the commission firm of Waite, Thornburn & Co. in which a temporary injunction was granted to prevent margins that were put up by the complainants from being handed down to the contracting defendants.

The claim was made that defendants had run a corner in July "standard" oats. The complainants who had sold "short" to the defendants were not denying their contracts and while declaring their purpose to make these same contracts, made protested against having the case adjudicated by the board of trade, as provided in the bylaws of the association.

Fictitious Prices for July Oats.

In the fit on "change highly fictitious prices had been put on this commodity and the complainants asked the court to set a fair price between which price and the one at which they had contracted the difference might be paid.

The court said in ruling that as far as the merits of the case were concerned, it did not matter whether there was a corner, for it was taken for granted that an honest price was intended. "This part of the matter can be decided at a further hearing which will be had. The decision makes the injunction in force until this hearing of facts is had. The losing parties have appealed, but this does not prevent further hearing.

The gist of the decision is that a special committee which, according to the board rules, should be appointed by the president to adjust such differences, has no authority to act in matters where property rights are involved.

Regardless of the fact that the complainants agreed to be bound by the rules which provide for settlements of disagreements, the court rules that they were not bound, that the arbitrating of such power to such a body was against public policy and that it would be introducing a sovereignty within a sovereignty for the function of constraining law.

The court holds that as a corporation not for profit, the board of trade possesses governmental and disciplinary powers over the members that are not possessed by stock corporations, where money or property rights are directly involved. The general power to pass upon the right of property in the margins in question, however, is held a judicial power, which never can be considered to have been delegated or conferred by dubious implication.

Court Becomes Sarcastic.

"The ordinary courts of justice," said the court, "constituting one of the branches of our government ought not to be and should not submit to being excluded or ousted of jurisdiction by its instrument. The masterly ingenuity of the plan contrived to prevent appeal to the ordinary courts of the state commands our admiration. Think of the long time of operation that has proved the scheme a successful one. The loser who may feel himself aggrieved and who may know himself to have been wronged by the operation of a corner or otherwise at law, can only sue to get his money back. Even that remedy is by the resourcefulness of the scheme abridged. For it is possible for him to do even that only after he has an award or adjudication against him by this board of trade committee or tribunal."

SEVERAL ARE KILLED BY TRAIN COLLISION.

Freight Train Parted on Steep Grade and Cars Crashed Into Approaching Passenger.

Denver, Col., Sept. 13.—Santa Fe passenger train No. 608, known as the newspaper train, which left Denver this morning at 8:50 bound for Colorado Springs, Pueblo, St. Louis and Chicago, collided with a freight train at Struby, a small station several miles south of Littleton, and three members of the passenger train crew were killed and another perhaps fatally injured. Some of the passengers were badly shaken up and bruised but so far as known none were killed or seriously injured.

The freight when ascending a steep grade on a side track at Struby to let the passenger train pass, parted and fifteen or eighteen heavily loaded cars started back toward the approaching passenger train which was drawn by two engines.

The engines of the passenger train reversed and tried to back out of the way of the runaway cars, but did not succeed. The crash was heard for miles. Both passenger engines were thrown into the ditch and eight cars were piled upon them. The engineers and firemen were buried under the wreckage.

KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Wife of Senator Stewart Thrown Violently Against Telegraph Pole—Death Soon Followed.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 13.—The wife of William M. Stewart, senior United States senator from Nevada, was killed in an automobile accident at Alameda, Cal., yesterday.

Mrs. Stewart was sitting in the machine with Henry Fiske and a young man named Taylor. Through an accident the machine ran into a telegraph pole. Mrs. Stewart was thrown against the pole with great force, and was so seriously injured that death soon followed. Her home was at Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—Senator Stewart is not present at the Hague, in connection with the Fries fund arbitration.

SURPLUS IS SMALL.

Secretary Shaw Comes to Relief of Wall Street with Aid from Federal Treasury.

NEW YORK BANK SHOWING

October Interest on Government Bonds Anticipated—Increased Deposits in National Banks.

MONEY ENOUGH IN THE WEST.

Clearing House Statement.

New York, Sept. 13.—The weekly statement of the clearing house banks of New York issued today showed that the surplus reserve of the banks was decreased during the week by $3,381,975, leaving it at $715,075 in excess of the 25 per cent. of deposits required by law. During the week loans were decreased $6,875,900, and there was a decrease of deposits of $14,628,900.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—Secretary Shaw today made arrangements to release about $4,000,000 of the treasury holdings. He has had a list prepared of those national banks throughout the country which held free or pledged bonds at the date of their last report and has made inquiry for others. After making allowance for changed conditions since last report he expects this will release at least $4,000,000. He has sent notice to all such that if they will send these bonds to the treasury of the United States in sums of $50,000 or more, they will be designated as temporary depositaries and the face value of the bonds will be deposited with them to the credit of the treasurer of the United States. He has pursued this course in preference to designating depositaries in the ordinary way which compels them to buy bonds in the market at a large premium, thus paying out more for the bonds than they get from the government. The custom receipts are extremely heavy at this particular season of the year and the cash balance of the treasury has been gradually increasing.

October Interest Anticipated.

He has also decided to anticipate the October interest, amounting to about $4,200,000, and with this in view orders have been issued to the various sub-treasuries to cash such coupons as may be presented for payment and to instruct the registered bonds. All this was decided upon some days ago and letters and telegrams prepared for today.

The secretary sees in present conditions no occasion for alarm. He calls attention to the fact that there is no evidence of a currency famine present or prospective elsewhere than in New York. Even there the rate is not high for commercial paper. He does not desire to force the banks into the markets to buy bonds at a rate higher than the government is willing to pay. He does desire to make the best possible use of the free bonds now held by the banks. Incidentally he likes to encourage banks to hold free bonds during the dull months, believing it is much better to hold bonds that will yield 3 1/2 per cent. even than to make coin loans at 2 per cent. He is therefore giving the banks that hold these free bonds an opportunity to use them to most excellent advantage. This method if pursued by the banks would give a slight element of elasticity to our otherwise inelastic currency system.

Secretary's Position Explained.

His position as regards increasing circulation is perhaps best expressed in a letter which he recently wrote a banker that had been already buying bonds, and which he has consented to make public. It is as follows:

"I desire to have from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 additional circulation printed preparatory, so that it can be issued in four days instead of forty."

"I will be glad to have the banks holding deposits arrange if they can to borrow the bonds."

"Fourth, I desire to send no bank into the market to buy bonds at the present time."

"Fifth, I do not care to have the currency issued unless conditions make it well-nigh imperative."

"I am making no demand upon any bank. The amount of their circulation must be determined by their directors, but I must as the holder of the treasury securities, for existing conditions, I deem myself justified in using the public funds now held by various banks on deposit as I think best for the public good, and in case of trouble I may think best to use these to buy increased circulation, the banks now holding such funds having preference."

Appeal from Wall Street.

New York, Sept. 13.—Money conditions in Wall Street were becoming alarming by leaders in the world of finance. The rate for call loans went to 20 per cent. yesterday.

Bankers notified Secretary Shaw that a large measure of aid must be extended if serious consequences are to be averted. The surplus reserve in the official statement of the associated banks last week was only $1,007,050, and the banks have lost $6,000,000 during the week. The sub-treasury is constantly absorbing money from the banks for customs payments and shipments to the interior. This stringency, however, must not be taken to imply that the commercial interests of the country at large are seriously affected. It is undeniably true that there is little money for deals of a highly speculative character, note to carry out large infusions of capital stock. Nevertheless there are ample funds to move the crops, to provide for the usual necessities of manufacturers and merchants and to afford to investors opportunities for carrying the better class of securities on a liberal margin.

Western Banks Full of Money.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—That the country has entirely outgrown Wall Street as its vital spot, so far as the control of its circulating medium is concerned, is a view taken by Secretary Wilson, who returned from an extended tour of the middle Western states.

"This tale about the West needing money to move crops," he declared warmly, "is all a hash. The Western banks are full of money."

The Sun's Flames.

The sun's flames spring at times to a distance of 350,000 miles from its surface.

FROSTS IN NORTHWEST.

LATE CORN IN IOWA AND NORTH DAKOTA DAMAGED.

Mercury Drops to 24 Degrees in Several Places—Conditions Favor Continued Low Temperature.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 12.—Dispatches from a score of more points to the Journal tell of killing frosts in the Northwest last night. The mercury fell to 24 degrees in many places. Late corn in Northern Iowa and South Dakota is badly damaged. Flax and all uncult crops in North Dakota suffered. Minnesota points report damage to all vegetation not matured. Much of the corn in the Northwest was out of the way. The late stuff will now be cut and fed as fodder.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 12.—Twenty-six degrees was the mark registered by the thermometer at the weather bureau this morning where frost was reported throughout the state. It is believed that the corn crop generally is beyond the danger point, although in the valleys there still remains part of the crop which will be somewhat damaged. Forecaster Welsh says the conditions are favorable for continued low temperature.

Berlin, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The frost of last night did much damage in Wausau county. On the Pitch cranberry marsh the temperature was 22 degrees above zero. Water was let onto the marsh and little damage was done. On the other marshes about one-half of the unpicked crop was ruined. Corn and potatoes also suffered. Green Lake county being higher did not have as severe frost as there was in this county.

Rolling Prairie, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The thermometer at 6 a. m. was at 30 degrees. The fields were white with frost. There is little corn cut or fit to eat.

SURRENDERS TO POLICE.

MUSKEGON FORGER SAYS HE WILL PLEAD GUILTY.

Luther W. Shear, Tired of Wandering About the Country, a Fugitive from Justice.

Muskegon, Mich., Sept. 12.—Luther W. Shear, the district agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, prominent church man and society leader, who disappeared on June 11, leaving behind him alleged forgeries and debts to the extent of $80,000, quietly walked into the presence of Sheriff Payne at the county jail this morning and gave himself up.

"I came by myself to save you the $250 reward," he remarked. "I am tired of wandering about the land, a fugitive from justice."

Shear will say but little of his wanderings. The most of his time was spent in New York city.

The alleged forger was arraigned before Judge Sullivan in police court at 10 o'clock. He waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court in the sum of $10,000.

Shear says he will plead guilty. He shows the strain and suffering through which he passed during the last three months. The jail is being besieged with the victims of his alleged forgeries and the entire city is greatly excited over the sensation.

PROPOSED COMBINE OF PACKING-HOUSES.

Cudahy, Swift and Armour to Receive Stock Equal to Twenty-five Times the Earnings for 1901.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The long expected merger of the great meat packing interests of the United States, according to the Record-Herald, will go into active and open operation Saturday, September 27, unless there should be an entirely unlooked for change in the plans agreed upon by those concerned in the deal. An industrial combination second only to the steel trust in point of magnitude and importance is therefore practically accomplished.

According to latest reports the new packing combine is to be capitalized at the rate of twenty-five times the last year's earnings of the constituent companies. For example, Cudahy & Co. are said to have earned about $820,000 in 1901. This would make their share of the capital stock of the merger $21,000,000. A 4 per cent. dividend that the new consolidation might be expected to declare would amount to $8,400,000 on this lot of stock—approximately his legitimate earnings.

On the basis of capitalization, Armour & Co., whose last year's profits are supposed to have been about $8,000,000, will receive $200,000,000 in the new securities in exchange for their business. Swift & Co. will receive $50,000,000, their net earnings for the last year probably not amounting to more than $2,000,000 by reason of the fact that this concern does not own its subsidiary companies, such as car lines and selling agencies.

Carrying out this method to the end, the Schwabacher & Sulzberger Company would receive $25,000,000.

It is said that it is the undoubted intention of the consolidated meat interests to control all of the packing houses and stock yards of the country and to save every possible dollar in the cost of manufacturing and distribution.

In addition to this all by-products will be absolutely controlled and efforts made to buy up interests that are closely allied to the meat business.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

Convict O'Brien, Who Made Daring Escape from Montana Penitentiary, Surrenders.

Door Lodge, Mont., Sept. 12.—Tom O'Brien, who escaped from the Montana penitentiary about three weeks ago, early this morning presented himself at the prison doors and surrendered. O'Brien's case is most unique.

O'Brien's object in escaping was that he might have the public on his side of the alleged crime for which he was sent to the prison. Pursued by officers the fugitive furnished better after better to the Butte Miner in which he set forth his case, pleading for public sympathy. O'Brien is a graduated veterinary surgeon and was a trusty at the penitentiary. Before he escaped he gave the prison board opinion and then mounted a well-known race horse belonging to the warden on which he made a flying rush past the guards.

FLEE FROM THE FLAMES.

Immense Damage and Loss of Life in the Far West.

VILLAGES DESTROYED.

Mills, Lumber and Timber are Burned—Fires Rage Over Large Area of Territory.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 13.—The result of the forest fires which are raging in this vicinity may be summed up substantially as follows up to the present time:

Tillamook City has been saved from impending doom by a timely change in the wind. The forests in Douglas and Jackson counties are on fire, but the damage yet is small. Sixty people in the town of Spring Water, Clackamas county, were forced to flee for their lives and rendered homeless and a fine timber belt destroyed. The sawmill of the Bridal Veil Lumber Company and the whole town of Palmer, situated twenty miles east of Bridal Veil in the county, has been destroyed. The damage in Eastern Multnomah county amounts to $40,000 and every family has been fighting fire since Monday. Three dwellings and the county bridge are gone in Pleasant Valley.

Guarded Night and Day.

To protect the town of Gresham men stand guard night and day. At Pleasant Home a sawmill was destroyed and four others were in danger. The destruction of the village of Vicksburg, the steamer Columbia is reported stranded in the river near Astoria. The non-arrival of grain and coasting ships is due to dense smoke at the mouth of the Columbia river.

A woman was burned to death near Vancouver and a woman and child are missing. Mills, lumber and timber to the value of $1,000,000 were destroyed in Chualar county, Wash. The damage near Lantz, Or., amounts to over $25,000.

Details of various losses from numerous country districts are arriving and the record of small individual losses will not be finished until rain shall have come to quench the flames.

Wagon Loads of Refugees.

Elma, Wash., Sept. 13.—Forest fires are raging over a large area of country east of Elma. Several large mills suffered more or less loss and some have been destroyed.

The Star mill and village has been wiped out. Wagon loads of refugees are arriving from the burning district and people are beginning to move out of Elma. Many farm houses and barns have been destroyed. A high east wind favors the fire and gives it terrible velocity. The Old Fellows' cemetery, one and a half miles from town, is burning.

The seven big mills have an aggregate value of over $500,000 in their plants alone. Their total value is near the million mark. Elma citizens are taking every precaution to save their homes.

Town of Enumac Wiped Out.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 13.—The density of the smoke from forest fires in various parts of adjacent country districts is increasing. Transportation facilities on all sides are badly impaired and communication with many counties is cut off. The most serious fear is that Enumac, a little town just south of Seattle, has been entirely wiped out by the fires. Capt. Bryant, federal inspector of mills and well known all along the Pacific coast, and A. P. Stockwell, a wealthy logger, had a thrilling escape Thursday. For half an hour they rode through an area of timber roaring with fire. Burning trees were on every side, but the travelers were successful in reaching the outskirts in safety. A five-minute halt at any point would have resulted in their death, so fierce was the walls of flames.

Traffic is Demoralized.

Everett, Wash., Sept. 13.—Forest fires are raging along the Great Northern between Skykomish and Wallington. Telegraphic communication between here and Seattle is cut off. Freight and passenger traffic is demoralized from the East by the burning of a bridge at Alvin, near the Cascade tunnel. The Great Northern is patrolling the line with engines fitted with fire-fighting pumps.

Several Houses Burned.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 13.—Immense bush fires are burning in the districts surrounding Victoria. The town of Alberni is threatened, several houses have been burned at Sooke, and the aerial tramway and one of the Tyne mine are in danger. The blue jacks had hard work to save the naval hospital.

Enormous Damage Done.

Cassels, Col., Sept. 13.—The largest and most destructive forest fire in Colorado is raging between Chase and Shawnee. Should the wind shift to the west nothing can prevent the fire sweeping the canyon from top to bottom. Damage already done to the Platte watershed cannot be estimated. The flames cover a space of five miles in length by one mile in width.

Two Children Perish.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 13.—Fire, resulting from an explosion of kerosene used to start the kitchen fire in the home of Louis Moritz this morning destroyed the house, two children, Louis, aged 2 years, and Annie, aged 17 years, were killed in the flames. In trying to save his daughter, Mr. Moritz was badly burned but will recover.

Beaumont, Tex., Sept. 13.—One acre of Spindale Top heights in the great Beaumont oil field was last night a seething mass of flames and a stifling smoke. This morning the fire was at a standstill. It is under control so long as the wind continues from the north-east, fanning the flames away from the hill. The great Texas flora gusher is alight, sending heat and smoke eighty feet into the air. The Wood well is on fire. Several smaller tanks are burning, it being impossible to tell how many.

TWO MINERS KILLED.

Inwood, Mich., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—John Jaticola and John Thompson, Finnish miners, were killed by an explosion of a box of powder in the Palmet mine here this morning. Matt Kokko and John Wehnas were buried by a caving in the Norris mine, but were taken out injured after several hours' confinement.

TRAVELERS INSPECT MINES.

Members of Upper Peninsula Council and Guests Visit Calumet.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—The members of the Upper Peninsula Council of United Commercial Travelers of America and fifty guests arrived here this morning. The mines and other points of interest were inspected before leaving for home this afternoon.

Owing to the fall of the Campbelle the pigeons of Venice have flown away—no one knows whither.

Chicago Matters.

Little Nellie Spencer, who fell through the skylight of a five-story building, died from her injuries.

Despondent because of his inability to secure employment, Walter Foy, 29 years old, committed suicide in his room by asphyxiation.

Strangulation from a piece of meat lodged in his throat caused the death of Clement Masten at his home. The decedent was 59 years old.

Peter Storm, 50 years old, committed suicide by shooting himself in his bedroom. Worry over ill-health is assigned as the cause for the act.

John J. Cunningham, a laborer, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid because his wife would not return to him.

While washing windows in a building Adam Coleman, 28 years old, a junior, lost his balance and fell from a fourth story window to the ground, a distance of nearly fifty feet. This condition is such that the physicians fear he cannot recover.

Victor Roland O'Shea, who killed his young wife and then attempted to kill himself, was held for murder without bail by the coroner's jury. He is at present at the Fabian Hospital, seriously wounded, but with fair chances for recovery, and he now desires to live.

Charles Francis Sidney Colman was arrested in Buffalo on a charge of having embezzled $5,000 from the firm of Wadley & Co., wholesale wooden merchants. Colman's downfall carries with it a tale of gambling followed by disgrace, a broken home, and a girl wife with a 6-month-old baby being left to face the world alone. And behind it all lies the story of another tragedy enacted in New Orleans five years ago, when Colman's father, then cashier of the Union National Bank of that city, killed himself rather than face imprisonment for embezzling a large amount of money.

At last came the eventful day, and Dame Nature could never have made a more glorious one, for the sun shone from a cloudless sky, cool, delicious breezes blew, and everything looked bright and beautiful.

When Carol assumed her bridal robes she looked too sweet and sad for mortal eyes, and even the heart of the fierce old man throbbled with a half-pity when she directed a look at him, as if in mute entreaty.

He had hoped against hope, and now only anger and despair reigned in his heart. There was no chance of rescue left now, it seemed to him, and the sacrifice must go on, though it cut him to the heart to see his darling child wedded to such a desperate villain as he knew the Captain to be.

From an open window a pair of keen eyes watched all that was transpiring. Though many years had passed away since he had set eyes on the interior of the Terrace, Roger did not seem to forget certain things about the mansion with which he had been familiar at that time, and from among the vines outside a little balcony he could observe without being himself seen. Not twenty yards away the swiftest horse in all the surrounding country was in waiting, hidden by the trees.

Roger Darrel's was not the only form that crouched at a window and looked on, for a man dressed in black, and with a certain foreign air about him, was at one of those opening upon the piazza, and his eyes were glued upon Captain Grant with a cold gleam in them, while from his mustached lips fell the words: "At last I have run him down!"

The ceremony commenced. It was destined never to go through, and yet not through this mysterious foreigner who appeared to have such an attachment for the soldier chieftain came any interruption. From the easy attitude he had assumed, it was easy to see that he intended watching it through.

"One wife more cannot hurt the rogue, for he has already had at least ten, so far as my knowledge of him goes. As for the girl, she loves him not, and it will only please her to learn that she is not his wife. The Count plays his cards well, but that branded hand and the black glove have betrayed him."

In the midst of the ceremony, however, quite an unlooked-for event occurred. Both at Richmond Terrace and Darrel Chase there were machines for manufacturing gas, such as is the general custom among the wealthy planters of the Southern States, and the whole supply was furnished by a single pipe.

While the minister was just propounding to Carol the solemn question as to whether she would "take this man to be your lawfully wedded husband" sudden and complete darkness came upon the whole house, every gas jet being extinguished on the instant.

The effect can be imagined. Consternation filled the mind of almost every one, and the few guests present were alarmed, not knowing what was about to happen.

Captain Grant did not realize whether this was an accident or part of a deep-laid plan to rob him of his intended bride, so, in order to be ready for emergencies, he threw one arm around her. At almost the same instant, however, Carol was jerked from his encircling arm, and he received a blow on the head that staggered him. He made a clutch, but his arm only clasped the empty air. Whither the young girl had gone he could not guess.

A light was struck, and upon being applied to the gas the rooms were once more illuminated. Then the truth became apparent.

Carol was missing.

Whither she had gone, or who had carried her away, not a soul in that room could say. Perhaps Lawrence Richmond could give a shrewd guess, and, as something like the truth came through his mind, he could not help the faint, grim smile that crept over his countenance. It caught the eye of Captain Grant, and in another instant he was at the man's side, his hand clenching his arm.

"You have sealed your doom by this act, Lawrence Richmond," he hissed, savagely.

CHAPTER VII.

The Captain's face was as black as a thundercloud when he grated those words out between his teeth, and well might he be enraged, believing, as he did, that this was some of the treacherous work of the man whom he held in his power.

"You have played me false, Richmond, deny it if you dare," he hissed. "Hark, even now I can hear your accomplice rifling off, and doubtless carrying your daughter with him—a second Lochinvar. Highly romantic, no doubt, but you shall suffer for it, even if it should be the last act of my life. A brave foe I can honor, but a traitor I despise, and would risk life to give him the punishment he deserves."

"Listen to me!" cried the old man, now fully alarmed for his safety, as he saw that the mad soldier-adventurer was in a fit state to do any rash act. "Although I would have saved my daughter if it had been possible, yet I swear to you I had not the remotest suspicion of such a thing occurring; but now I see through it all plainly. Do you know who has carried away your bride, Captain Grant? The young master of Darrel Chase has been here!"

"Roger Darrel here!" snarled the Captain.

His coolness, which had always seemed a part of his nature, had apparently deserted him at this juncture, leaving him the embodiment of savage rage. The idea advanced by the old man might have gained more headway but that in again searching the face of Lawrence Richmond with his keen eyes, he detected a gleam in the other's orbs which it seemed to him was induced by triumph.

That settled it. All he might say would go for naught, and Lawrence Richmond saw from the flash upon the other's face that he was doomed. The soldier clutched him, and his face, purple with passion, looked more like the possession of a fiend than a human being.

"You have played me false, and now I shall bring ruin upon you. I told you it was a dangerous game playing with fire, and it seems you would not heed it. The consequences be upon your own head. Do you hear me, traitor?"

His hand had caught the old man's throat, and in his fury of madness he would in all probability have choked Lawrence Richmond, for the few guests present were so filled with horror that they could move neither hand nor foot; but at this juncture the form of the mysterious foreigner darted across the floor. One hand fell upon the shoulder of the crazed soldier.

"Just in time to prevent the charge of murder from being added to the list of crimes of which you stand accused, my dear Count."

The Captain did not relax his grip upon the old man, but, as the voice of the stranger reached his ears, it was observed that he not simply shivered, but shuddered like a man with the ague.

He slowly turned his head, his face still scarlet, and there was a look in his eyes that was most wonderful to behold, but whether of fear or defiance, or both, it would have been hard to say. For half a minute he looked at the man in black over his shoulder. The light deserted his eyes and sullen fury alone raged there.

"What do you seek?" he finally demanded.

"I seek you, Count. Be careful how you carry yourself if you would not have all made known here," returned the newcomer.

Cuning crept into the eyes of the Captain. Some men would have been foolish enough to have flown at the stranger, and have been defeated, but he was too wise for such a false course.

"Gentlemen, you will excuse me for a few minutes while I retire with this person and explain to him the mistake under which he labors," said the Captain.

Of course those present murmured an audible assent, at which the mysterious stranger smiled, and came very near laughing.

He accompanied the Captain, however, and there were some who saw that he held in his hand a little revolver, which was kept half concealed. Evidently the foreign gentleman had no intention of being overpowered by treachery.

Captain Grant went away with a look upon his face of mingled hate and shrewd cunning—a look that would perhaps have alarmed the foreigner had he noticed it and been more cautious; but he was not willing to give the Count, as he called Grant, credit for the sagacity he really possessed.

There were those present who really expected they would never see him again. They knew not who the mysterious man was, but he was evidently on the Captain's trail, and upon the face of the latter they had read guilt plainly.

Lawrence Richmond was among the number. He felt sure that the Nemesis for whom he had longed had come, and that the Captain had fallen into his grasp. That it was due to the judicious item in the newspapers he also had no doubt.

Now that the skies seemed brightening, his thoughts turned upon the abduction of his child. There had been no change in his ideas thus far, and when he declared to the Captain that it was his opinion Roger Darrel was the one they had to thank for this madcap act he spoke his convictions truly.

He was just about to give some orders in reference to the agency that would have been quite useless, as the bold adventurer must be miles away by this time, when one of the windows of the room was darkened and a man entered in whom they recognized Captain Grant.

He was alone!

CHAPTER VIII.

Although Carol Richmond had hoped for something to occur in her favor when hope seemed even a delusion and a hollow mockery, she had never expected it to come in the way it did.

When the gas was so suddenly extinguished, through the agency of the shrewd Andrew, who had arranged all these matters with the young man beforehand, she too was somewhat alarmed by the total darkness that came upon the scene. Before she had time, however, to collect her senses she felt the Captain's arm encircle her waist and draw her close to him. Then she was suddenly torn from his grasp.

Into whose possession she had now come Carol could not even guess, and taken even at the very worst, it could not be more bitter than finding herself in the arms of the man she hated and despised—Captain Grant.

Somewhat, a delicious sense of repose seemed to pervade her whole being, and she gave way to the multitude of fancies that flooded her brain, by fainting dead away.

She was dimly conscious of a jolting motion, as if one the back of a horse and moving rapidly, but it was a long time before consciousness returned in full. She was still clasped in the arms of her captor, and looking up, could see his face in the mystic star light.

It was the countenance of Roger Darrel!

He seemed to be aware of the fact that she had once more come back to life, for presently he looked down and softly spoke her name.

"Oh, Roger, you have saved me from that dreadful man. I am so glad, so glad."

It was all she could say; simple enough in itself truly, and yet the relieved cry of an overburdened heart. Roger looked down upon her tenderly, and even drew her closer to him, an action she could do nothing to prevent, even had she so desired.

How long they had been riding Carol could not even guess, but it must have been quite a time. Where was Roger taking her? The thought came to her suddenly, and she instantly made up her mind to ask.

"I will take you anywhere you wish, Carol. I was heading for the old ruined mill, where, as you know, the widow, Mrs. Randall, lives alone. If you can think of any better place, tell me, and I shall carry you there. My only object in carrying you off was to save you from a designing villain, a man whom I have met before, and about whom there is a mysterious familiarity that puzzles me at times."

"I believe you, Roger, and sooner would I have died than have become his wife; but it seemed as if my senses were bound, and all that I did was in a mechanical way. Thank heaven, you saved me from such a fate. I shall never forget it, Roger, never."

FARMS AND FARMERS

How to Roll Barbed Wire.

The illustration shows a home-made device for rolling barbed wire which will work well and enable one to handle the wire without trouble. Use any sort of a small barrel and nail the ends in tight and see that all hoops are securely fastened on. On the center of each end or head nail a block of wood thick enough to be above the level of the edges of chimes. Through this bore a hole into the barrel. Make handles of material an inch thick, two inches wide and five feet long. Take an iron rod, pass it through the ends of the handles and through the barrel, as shown in the cut, fastening at the ends with a nut. Nail a piece of board across the handles, or use iron bars, if possible, to stiffen the handles, and the machine is complete. Stretch the wire out on the ground, fasten one end to the barrel and then simply roll the barrel over the wire until the latter is wound around the barrel.

Hay in Round Bales.

The cylindrical bale has become very popular for hay and cotton, and many shippers are discarding their old presses to get one that will press it in this form. The standard bale is eight inches in diameter and thirty-six inches long. The pressure used in packing for home use puts about two hundred pounds in such a bale, but when intended for export they use higher pressure and get in about 275 pounds. A bale put up for army use is but half as long, or eighteen inches, and weighs about 140 pounds. It is calculated that a good pack horse or mule will travel with one of these on each side, and they can go where the army wagons could not. Thousands of tons of these round bales have been shipped to our army in the Philippines, and a large amount to the British army in South Africa. In this form a given weight of hay is compressed into about one-half the space that it occupied in the square bale, and the fact that it does not pack so closely in ear or vessel, there being spaces between the bales, which prevents moulding, preserves the sweetness of the hay, and the close pressure in the bale reduces the combustibility. For cotton many of the same advantages are claimed for the round bale, that is, getting more in small space and reducing the danger from fire.—American Cultivator.

Cutting Potatoes for Seed.

Here are some outline drawings showing how to cut potatoes for seed. In the first case the potato is cut in two pieces; in the second and third, in three and four respectively. By cutting potatoes as indicated about ten bushels of seed are required per acre. Much of the success with the crop depends on starting right. With a good strong growth at the start the battle is half won. The other half of the battle may be won by proper spraying and tillage.

POTATOES CUT FOR SEED.

The Strawberry Pest.

The most objection to continuing to keep the strawberry bed in one place for several years is not the exhaustion of the soil, because the fertility can be applied. It is not the matting of the row, because after runners have put out into the paths between them. If they are worked mellow and enriched, the old row of plants can be cut out, leaving the path there, and the new plants can be thinned, if too abundant, and the weeds can be taken out, but insect pests are so numerous now that it may be easier to set a new bed than to try to kill them. There are more than a dozen that are well known, and the root borer, crown borer, stalk borer, leaf rollers, cutworms and grubs are probably those which do the most damage. Nearly every one of these can be found in the soil as eggs, larvae or pupa soon after the fruit is picked, and when any of them have been especially troublesome, we would advise the setting of a new bed at some distance from the old one, and plowing up the old bed in August, which will destroy most of them. If any plants are taken from

Alfalfa on Sandy Soil.

The claim that alfalfa will not thrive on sandy soil is not borne out by experiment. Col. B. W. Richards, secretary of the Laurel Hill Cemetery Company, who has a farm at Hammononton, N. J., has grown alfalfa for several years, and on a plot consisting of white sand. The plot was seeded in August, 1898, and another later. As many as four or five cuttings are secured every season, and from two to three tons of hay per acre are cured. Maunre is spread over the land every fall and lime (mostly from burnt oyster shells) is broadcasted. The land has become very productive, and more animals were necessary in order to consume the hay produced. The experiment is a valuable one, as it demonstrates what can be done with alfalfa on the lightest kind of sand.—Philadelphia Record.

In Favor of Sheep.

It is sometimes asserted that cattle and sheep require the same amount of feed per 1,000 pounds of live weight, according to Prof. Curtiss. This statement seems not to be well founded. In some experiments at the Iowa station the cattle consumed 39.6 pounds of dry matter per 1,000 pounds of live weight against an average of 29.7 by the sheep. Both cattle and sheep were on full feed. The sheep made a daily gain of 3.73 pounds per 1,000 pounds of live weight and the cattle 2.14. In summing up this comparison we find that while the sheep ate 48 per cent more than the cattle they gained nearly 75 per cent more.

Topdressing Winter Wheat.

In some sections of the country it is a practice to top dress the wheat in the fall, and this regardless of the quantity of fertilizer applied to the field before seeding. This is an excellent plan and should be more generally practiced. The idea is to apply this top dressing immediately after seeding, using a manure spreader arranged so that the manure will be scattered evenly but quite thin. During the winter the strength of the manure is washed down to the roots of the plants while the coarser portion acts as a mulch.

Feed Bulky Food.

Growing animals need bulky food to keep the stomach distended? Why feeding illustrates the point to an extreme. One hundred pounds contain only about seven pounds of solids. The animal therefore must drink and void nine-three pounds of water to get the seven pounds dry matter. While not an ideal food, the growth obtained serves to show a demand for bulk.

OIL FIELD IS BURNING.

Huge Settling Tanks Containing Petroleum Exploded.

WIDE AREA DESTROYED

Streams of Burning Oil Running Along the Ground—Impossible for Men to Approach the Wells.

Beaumont, Tex., Sept. 12.—The fire in the oil fields is still raging. Higgins' 37,000 barrel tank is burning; Woods' gusher is shooting a column of flame 50 feet high; gas escaping from other wells is burning. The fire has been confined to the Keith-Ward tract, on which all the tanks have been burned. The damage thus far is estimated to be $100,000. A large number of derricks and several pumping plants have been destroyed, much oil has been burned and one gusher continues to shoot up a column of flame. At 2:50 a. m. communication with Gladys was completely cut off.

The fire started in some waste oil along the Texas & Sabine tracks and burned about sixty feet of trestle. This was put under control and it was believed that all danger had passed, but meanwhile the fire in some way had been communicated to the field and a number of huge settling tanks containing thousands of barrels of petroleum have already exploded and others are reported to be in direct line of the flames, which have spread over a wide area already. The ground is saturated with oil.

Keith-Ward Tract Burned Over.

A telephone message from Gladys, which is the station at the oil field, says the whole of the Keith-Ward tract, embracing several acres and containing a large number of wells, has been burned over and it is believed that some of the wells have caught fire, though this is not as yet positively ascertained, as no one can approach to find out.

At 1 o'clock this morning the big tanks belonging to the Higgins Company were burning. Runners have been sent out in every direction for the men who own or represent the companies.

A statement issued yesterday showed that there are 410 producing wells in the field, some of which are buried under earth to safeguard against a fire.

Men Stand Around Helpless.

It is reported that two men were seriously burned. The workmen on the hill are standing about unable to do anything even toward protecting that portion of the field which is not yet on fire.

The agent at Gladys telephoned that the flames seemed to have been nearly stationary during the last few minutes, and unless there are further explosions of oil tanks the fire may be confined to the present burning district. The tank known as the Higgins has blown off its top and the burning oil is running along the ground, and this may be communicated to other tanks.

WOOLEN MILLS DESTROYED.

Fire Throws Two Hundred Men and Women Out of Employment.

Bridgeton, N. J., Sept. 12.—The large factory of the East Lake Woollen Mills Company, of which J. Edward Addicks of Delaware is the head, was destroyed by fire today, entailing a loss of $100,000. Two hundred men and women are rendered idle.

Oregon City, Ore., Sept. 12.—Pierced forest fires are raging in the vicinity of Springfield. Houses, barns and many cattle are being burned and the whole country is devastated.

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 12.—Port Columbia, Wash., is on fire as a result of the prairie fires raging in that part of the country. Many have left here to render assistance.

MONEY STRINGENCY IN WALL STREET.

Associated Banks Have Surplus of Only $4,000,000 Over the Required Reserve.

New York, Sept. 12.—Wall street passed through a tight money squeeze today. Apprehensions of temporary stringency had been visible all the week, the average stock exchange rate on preceding days having been 8 per cent. over.

Today loans made on the stock exchange go over until Monday and there was much uneasiness over what tomorrow's bank statement would show. Last Saturday the associated banks reported a surplus of only $4,000,000 over the required reserve.

Demand for call money on the stock exchange began much earlier this morning and there was a crowd of brokers on hand when it started off at 12 per cent. By early noon the rate rose to 15 per cent. with no offerings. Out of town institutions again furnished most of the funds. Later still the price for call loans rose to 20 per cent.

The high price of money had its customary effect upon the stock market. Heavy all the afternoon, stocks broke more rapidly from 1 o'clock on the publication of the figures covering the known movements of currency during the week serving to augment the declines.

KAISER LED THE CHARGE.

Visiting American Generals Participate in German War Maneuvers.

Frankfort-on-Oder, Sept. 12.—Maj. Gen. Young and Brig. Gen. Leonard Wood, with General William, led a charge of 9,000 cavalry against the army of the blue this morning.

The charge was one of the most spectacular ever witnessed in German military maneuvers. From a tactical standpoint it was a success, the cavalry capturing thirty guns and 2,000 infantrymen. The American generals wore their blue fatigue uniforms and were superbly mounted. The Kaiser rode a white Arab horse.

WEDS A RIFON GIRL.

Rich St. Louis Man Secretly Married in Chicago.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12.—St. Louis society was surprised by the announcement that Douglas G. Kingsland, proprietor of a large iron manufacturing establishment, had wed in Chicago early this week. Mr. Kingsland and his bride yesterday took possession of a handsome estate at the Wisconsin West End hotel. The young woman was Miss Larela Birge Stone of Ripon, Wis. They met this summer while Mr. Kingsland was on his vacation at Wisconsin lakes.

PROF. T. S. ADAMS WEDS.

Member of Wisconsin University Faculty Marries at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Thomas Sewall Adams, a member of the faculty of the Wisconsin university, and Miss Elizabeth Margaret Matthews were married yesterday in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church.

YESTER.

The families of C. Otto, C. Summers and Al Fredrick and Mrs. Fredrick of Sheboygan spent Sunday at the Wussow home. They all report a very enjoyable time.

Miss Lizzie McCamley of Grand Rapids is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Joseph White. Miss Lizzie has been engaged to teach in school district No. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Treutler and John Flanagan attended church in Grand Rapids on Sunday.

C. Heiser returned on Friday from Milwaukee where he has been attending the state fair.

The Sigel fence meeting has closed for this season on account of cool evenings.

Mrs. Albert Fredrick and mother will leave for Sheboygan this week.

W. H. Burlingham visited with friends at Dexterville on Sunday.

Conard Hessler of Grand Rapids visited friends here on Thursday.

George Otto was a business visitor in Grand Rapids Tuesday.

Dan Koch lost his best driving horse last Monday.

Notice.

The following notice appeared in the Jacksonville, Ill., Courier on March 15, 1902, and will be of interest to many people in this vicinity. Mr. Noah Wellman of Peoria, Ill., for the past fifteen years a trusted employee of the Peoria, Decatur & Evansville Railroad Co., says: "I have tried different cough remedies and have never found any to be equal to Hart's Honey and Horehound for the cure of coughs, and would not be without it at hand. The children like the pleasant taste of Hart's Honey and Horehound and a trial will convince anyone of the special merit of this medicine." Large bottles twenty-five and fifty cents. Sold by Sam Church, druggist.

BARBCK.

The Ladies' Aid society elected officers at their last meeting. The new officers are: Mrs. Edith Smith, president; Mrs. Fred Larbus, vice president; Mrs. Sam Griffith, secretary; Mrs. Len Crandall, treasurer.

Frank Lombard is moving his family back to town today. They have been rusticated on the Hopkins farm about one mile from town this summer.

W. J. Shea of Grand Rapids was in our village on Friday to summon the juryman from this town for the fall term of court.

Miss Lillie Giber of Lodi, who has been visiting here for a couple of weeks, departed for home Thursday noon.

Mrs. Henry Giber gave her niece, Miss Lillie Giber, a surprise party on Wednesday evening.

L. Ward, who has been in Milwaukee for the last few days, returned home this morning.

Mrs. W. J. Shea of Grand Rapids is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thos. Law, for a week.

Mrs. Thos. Law has been quite sick but is better at this writing.

N. A. Boucher of Grand Rapids was a Sunday visitor in town.

Water Cure for Chronic Constipation.

—Take two cups of hot water half an hour before each meal and just before going to bed, also a drink of water, hot or cold, about two hours after each meal. Take lots of outdoor exercise—walk, ride drive. Make a regular habit of this and in many cases chronic constipation may be cured without the use of medicine. When a purgative is required take something mild and gentle like Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co. and Wood County Drug Co.

ALTDORF.

(Too late for last week.)

Mrs. Geo. Jones, daughter Viola and Miss Stengline of Ishpeming, Mrs. E. D. Voyer and daughter Lucile, and Miss Belle Voyer of Grand Rapids, spent Friday with Mrs. Nacht.

Mrs. J. G. Engel and daughter, Evelyn of Chicago, who visited relatives here and at Grand Rapids, returned to their homes on Saturday.

Mrs. Catherine Steinko and grandson, Rowland of Milwaukee, who have been visiting F. Reusch and family, returned home Friday.

Altdorf had a lively appearance last Saturday and Sunday caused by the teams passing to and from the cranberry marshes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Keys, Mrs. Farli and son spent Sunday at the Wipfli and Fertel homes.

Mrs. Schlitz is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Schultz of Sigel, this week.

Miss Gertrude Zimmerman of Plainfield, is visiting her parents here.

Nick Wirtz of Nekoosa spent Sunday at home.

—How often, after exposure, we find ourselves in the throes of a severe cold, which may be followed by pneumonia. To cure the one and prevent the other take a dose of Hart's Honey and Horehound. Sold by Sam Church, druggist.

RUDOLPH.

Henry Beimler is back from Milwaukee where he has been attending the fair and while there was the guest of his sister. Before going to Milwaukee he attended the wedding of a friend at Brillion.

Dr. Looze was called to see the little girl of N. Marsaw's who was badly burnt some time ago. She seems to be doing nicely, but Tuesday afternoon was taken suddenly ill.

Geo. Hamm drove thru here last Wednesday and he seemed to be interested in the lands about here. We wonder why.

Mr. Penrinea and Mrs. Flinn returned from Milwaukee where they have been attending the fair.

Land buyers are plentiful just at present. It keeps three land agents busy.

A. Chamber is building a new barn. Jacobson & Benson are doing the work.

Mrs. Rood, nee Inga Jacobson is at home for a visit with her parents.

Will Faust of Berlin is the guest of his niece, Mrs. A. Chambers.

Mrs. A. Akey of Biron was visiting relatives up here Sunday.

CRANMOOR.

The heavy frosts of last Thursday and Friday nights killed the gardens and corn in this vicinity and the cranberry crop that was unprotected by water was very seriously injured. A demonstration was made of what could be done with a water supply, as upon marshes having facilities for handling and water to cover up with the berries came out without loss, while the destruction was heavy upon exposed places. The picking is in progress, though more pickers are needed on most of the marshes.

J. W. Fitch, Misses Caroline and Dorothy Fitch and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. McLain and Mrs. Chas. Farrar of St. Louis and Miss Fitch of Louisville, were visitors at the Whitlesey home Wednesday evening.

Another large transfer of real estate was made this week, D. R. and Thos. Rezin selling their marsh property to a Mr. Morey who has been investing quite largely in this part of the county.

O. W. Dodge of Port Edwards spent Thursday morning here, inspecting the improvements being made on his marsh property. Mrs. Allen accompanied him and both were callers at the Whitlesey home.

Miss Ala Fitch terminated her visit with Cranmoor relatives and friends Thursday and left for her home at Louisville, Ky., on the evening train.

Miss Myra Kruger and brothers, Charles and Eddie, left Monday morning to resume their school work at Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Houston of Pittsville arrived Tuesday afternoon and will spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Edward Kruger.

James Nash of Nekoosa rode over Thursday afternoon and remained over night with his old time friends, the Whitleseys.

Miss Kittie Cahill left on the morning train Wednesday for a two weeks' visit at her home at Vesper.

Attorney H. E. Fitch and Prof. Wagner of Nekoosa spent Sunday with their friends at this place.

A Parson's Noble Act.

—"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver trouble that had caused me great suffering for many years. For a genuine, all-around cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in Liver, Kidney and Stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction is guaranteed by John E. Daly.

Pleasant to the Taste.

—One of the most important requirements in a medicine to be given to small children should be that it is pleasant to the taste. Bad tasting medicines disturb the stomach, destroy the appetite and it is extremely difficult to get children to take them. The pleasant flavor of Re-Go Tonic Laxative Syrup the certain cure for dyspepsia, constipation, and biliousness, pleases the most sensitive persons and is the ideal laxative for young children. Sold by Sam Church Druggist.

A genuine dramatic company has been organized in this city with E. L. Kromer as dramatic critic. The first production that company expects to put on will be "Way Down East," which is a piece of high artistic merit. The details of the organization are not all complete, but if the company meets with the success that the strength of the cast merits it is entirely probable that they will visit other towns and put on other productions of a high order of merit.

—When wiring your house, for electric lights choose the man who is the most skilled in that particular line. The requirements of an inside wireman are large, as he must be somewhat of a carpenter and know to a large extent how buildings are constructed. must be a "handy man," must be able to use soldering tools and know how to do a neat and clean job. For neatness and workmanship get G. M. Huntington. Telephone 231.

—"In dealing with man, remember that a spoonful of oil will go farther than a gallon of vinegar." The same may be said of children. There is nothing so good for children as the old-fashioned castor oil. However much they may abhor it, it is their best medicine for disorders of the bowels. In the more severe cases of diarrhoea and dysentery however, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy should be given after the oil operates, and a quick cure is sure to follow. For sale by Johnson Hill & Co. and Wood County Drug Co.

—FOR SALE.—Three stoves, 2 round oak and one base burner wood stove; also one roll top desk, 30x48. For further particulars call on John Schnabel at the MacKinnon factory or at residence corner of Oak and Maple streets, west side.

WAS A GOOD EXHIBIT

Took Seventh Place and Showed up Favorably with Surrounding Displays.

The exhibit made by Wood county at the state fair was a very creditable one and won seventh place among the exhibits made by counties. This may indeed be considered good, as those who had the exhibit in charge were comparatively new at anything of this kind, and knew very little of how to go about preparing for an occasion of this kind, while other counties that were represented had made exhibits every season for a number of years, and those who had charge of the matter were old hands at the business.

Will Nash, who assisted in taking care of the exhibit, states that the people of Wood county have reason to feel proud of the showing that was made, even if the county did not get first place. He stated that it was evident that other counties had begun on the preparation of their exhibit a year ahead and as a consequence they had been able to select better specimens, but that in many instances the manner in which they were prepared made a great deal of difference in the appearance.

It was evident at a glance that other counties had expended a great deal of work in preparing their exhibit so as to improve the showing that would be made over a county that only brought the stuff and put it up without extra preparation. The attendance at the fair was large at nearly every session and the number of people that saw what can be raised in Wood county was greater than ever viewed our products in the same length of time before, and there is no doubt of the impression that would be produced on any person who was looking for a place to make his future homes for agricultural purposes.

Wood county's exhibit received a prize of $70 as a whole, which was very well, indeed, considering the preparation that was made, and our people should begin early next year and endeavor to make a much better showing. The money expended is surely a small matter considering the benefit that is derived, and it could not be spent in a more beneficial manner.

Played at New London.

The baseball boys went to New London on Sunday and played a game with the team over there which resulted in a victory for the New London team by a score of 4 to 1.

The game was a good one from start to finish and had the home boys not made a costly error that let in three runs, the score at the end of the ninth inning would have been a tie. However the boys report that they made their one run on an error also.

The New London team is a very strong one, having beaten all the principal teams in that locality with ease, and they paid our boys the compliment of saying that they put up the strongest game that had been played there by a visiting team this summer. Following is the line up:

Grand Rapids.	New London.
Peterson.....catcher.	Elliott.....pitcher.
Alex. Bandelin.....short stop.	Porter.....first base.
A. Bandelin.....third base.	Gine.....second base.
Murray.....first base.	Curley.....second base.
Akey.....second base.	O'Hara.....third base.

Umpire—C. M. Jelliff.

Strikes—Grand Rapids, 9; New London, 6. Safe Hits—Grand Rapids, 3; New London, 3.

The boys report that they expect to get a game here before the season is over either with Marshfield or Wausau, although no definite information can be given at this time.

Burt Williams for Congress.

At the congressional convention held at Wausau on Saturday Burt Williams of Ashland was nominated for congress in the 10th district. Mr. Williams is a man of ability and is fairly well known throughout the district, and wherever he is known he is liked, and there is no question but that he will make as good a run for the office as any man the democrats could put up.

There were several aspirants for the office but Mr. Williams was the favorite from the first, and at the first ballot there was no question but what he would be the choice of the convention. Mr. Williams is a young man, but is mayor of the city in which he resides, and what speaks well for him is the fact that he is well liked in his own town. The Tribune heartily endorses the nomination of Mr. Williams and the voters of the 10th district who are in favor of an honest and clean government will do well to cast their ballot for him on election day.

BURGLARY AT PITTSVILLE.

Postoffice Safe, Blown Open, and Riddled with Contents.

On Sunday night or Monday morning the postoffice at Pittsville was entered by burglars and the safe blown open and the contents, amounting to about one hundred and fifty dollars in cash and stamps, taken.

Those who viewed the work done pronounced it to be that of professionals. The back door of the postoffice had been opened, after which a small hole had been drilled in the safe and a quantity of explosive introduced. The hole had then been plugged up with soap and the charge exploded.

A quantity of clothing had been piled around the safe to deaden the sound and the charge of nitro-glycerine had been so nicely calculated that the door of the safe had been nicely torn from its fastenings without any superfluous strength being used.

Nobody heard the explosion when the safe was blown, so it cannot be told just when the burglary did occur, but it is supposed to have taken place early Monday morning. Nothing in the store was disturbed by the burglars, although there was much merchandise at hand that could have been easily carried away. The burglars seemed to be only looking for cash or its equivalent, and governed themselves accordingly.

The sheriff was notified of the burglary as soon as it was discovered, and although he went to the scene of the crime and was assisted by the local authorities nothing could be discovered that would lead to the discovery of who the perpetrators were.

Death of Stephen Brazeau.

On Saturday afternoon occurred the death of Stephen Brazeau, one of the old residents of Grand Rapids and Wood county, in the 71st year of his age, death being caused by a complication of diseases and the effects of a stroke of paralysis which he sustained several years ago.

Mr. Brazeau was born at Montreal, Canada, on the 17th of February, 1832. His parents died when he was an infant and he lived with an aunt at Montreal until he was 17 years of age. He then came to the United States, locating at Buffalo, N. Y., where he learned the trade of wig making and barbering.

When he was 19 years of age he came west and located at Chicago, where he worked at his trade. He owned several places of business in the city of Chicago, but as the future of the city did not appear very bright at that time he sold out eventually, disposing of property for a nominal sum that is today worth millions.

Mr. Brazeau came to Northern Wisconsin in 1867, just about thirty-five years ago, and settled on the west side of the river, which then consisted of only a few houses and did not have a very promising outlook. He opened a barber shop here and at that time was the only man of his trade in this locality, and since that time he has lived here continuously, following his trade until 1892 when he retired from active life and made his home with his son Ed.

Soon after his retirement he was stricken with an attack of paralysis, from the effects of which he never fully recovered. He was able to get around, however, for some years until he had another attack about five years ago, which almost totally incapacitated him. In spite of his ailments he enjoyed comparatively good health until he was stricken about a week ago with other ailments, which in his weakened condition he was unable to withstand.

Mr. Brazeau was married in Chicago in 1855 to Margaret Brady. Fourteen children was the result of this union, ten of which are still living. Mrs. Brazeau having died in 1882. The children living are Frank and Ed of Nekoosa, William and George of Port Edwards, Irving and Theodore of this city. Stephen, who is a student at the Ann Arbor medical college, Mrs. John Canavan and Mrs. Charles Quinn of this city, and Mrs. George Zenier of Asotin, Washington. All or the children were present at the bedside of their father when the end came excepting Mrs. Zenier.

The funeral was held on Monday morning at nine o'clock from the Catholic church of which faith Mr. Brazeau had been a lifelong member.

Chicken Pie Social.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will give a chicken pie supper next Tuesday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock in the parlors of the M. E. church, for the purpose of raising the debt on the 20th Century Place. Everyone cordially invited and especially those interested in keeping open the reading rooms. Price of supper, 25c.

Baseball Sunday.

CAUGHT IN THE TOILS

JACK THE HUGGER CAPTURED

Promises to Reform and Leave the City and is Released.—Other Items of Interest.

On Tuesday evening Officer Garibee caught a man who is supposed to be the Jack the hugger who has put in his spare time evenings in terrifying our young ladies by catching them in secluded spots and hugging them.

The man had accosted two girls near the fair grounds on Tuesday evening and made as if he was going to take hold of them, but they managed to elude him and continued on their way down town and informed the chief of police of the incident. Mr. Garibee instructed the girls to wait down town for a short while and in the mean time he would go to the scene of operations and when the girls came back if the fellow showed himself he would be on deck to capture him.

This program was carried out and when the girls got back near the south side of the fair grounds the man was there. He followed them a short distance but before he had laid hands on them the officer came up behind and captured him.

The man turned out to be Jerome Haskins, who hails from Plainfield or that vicinity and has been hanging about the city for some time past. Haskins is an old offender, having served one term in state prison for having placed an obstruction on the railroad track with the evident intention of wrecking a train.

He was placed in jail over night but next morning when an attempt was made to find a case against him it was impossible to do so, as none of the girls who had been hugged were able to identify him positively. He did admit, however, that he was trying to "catch" the girls whom he had accosted near the fair grounds. He promised faithfully to leave the city if he was released from jail, and being unable to make a case against him he was released this morning.

Meat Market Change.—A deal was consummated last week between Nicholas Reiland and Dominick Reiland and Owen J. Love whereby the latter two gentlemen become the owners of the meat market on the west side known as Reiland's market. The new firm will be known as D. Reiland & Co. and the business of selling meat will be carried on the same as before. Mr. Love, who hails from Merrill, has for some time past been employed in the market of M. McCarthy, so is already known to a large number of our citizens. He expects to remove his family from Merrill to this city in the near future. Everybody knows Dominick Reiland, so he needs no introduction to our people, and there is no doubt but what the new firm will succeed in their venture.

A Pleasant Evening.—In response to invitations issued by the Epworth League to our teachers, the board of education and their wives, and the students who are attending our high schools for the first time, a merry company assembled in the M. E. church parlors last Friday evening. The Epworth colors, red and white, were tastefully draped about the rooms, while potted plants and flowers added their charm to the scene. Light refreshments were served during the evening, after which Superintendent Youker gave a short toast, to which the only response made was the appreciation of those present. Many old fashioned games added to the pleasure of the evening, which will remain a pleasant memory to those present.

Marshfield Street Fair.—Thursday of next week commences the Marshfield street fair, and the different committees are busily engaged in closing up the work as rapidly as possible. Among the many attractions that have been engaged for are balloon ascensions daily by the famous Belmont sisters, a diving dog, a slide for life, Siegfried's beautiful hall of fame, the spectacular eruption of Mount Pelee, statue turning to life, wonderful flying lady, Canadian giant, the spotted family, streets of Cairo with their camels and donkeys, civic, military, floral and industrial parades, three bands of music. Excursion rates on all railroads.

20th Century Place Closed.—The 20th century place on the east side has been closed temporarily by members of the W. C. T. U., but they expect to open the place again in the near future, probably inside of two weeks. In the interval the members of the order expect to find a more suitable place for the location of the place, which is one of the reasons for closing. With its re-establishment it will probably receive a new name and some changes made in the way of conducting it.

Will Return Here.—W. A. Peterson, who has had charge of the Methodist church in this city during the past two years, has been reassigned to this city by the conference for another year. This fact will prove welcome news to the members of the congregation as during the two years he has been here he has not only won the love and respect of his associates, but has also proven himself an earnest and energetic worker for the advancement of the church.

E. F. U. Doings.—The members of the Equitable and Fraternal Union will initiate several members into their order on Saturday evening, on which occasion there will be music and dancing and refreshments. Members of the order are requested to be present and participate in the festivities.

Shipping Chickens.—A car of chickens was shipped from this city Thursday, and judging from the number of farm wagons of all sorts and descriptions that were lined up at the railroad track the country folks take to the matter readily. If any considerable proportion of the fowls were layers we may look for an egg famine later on. There were so many at the car at one time that they had to line up and wait their turn, which generally took considerable time.

Some Heavy Frosts.—Two heavy frosts visited this section on Thursday and Friday nights of last week. During a talk with B. M. Vaughn, who suffers somewhat by the freeze, that gentleman stated that the cold was something unusual for this time of the year, and that during the fifteen years that he has been interested in agricultural matters he has not known of so heavy a frost at that time of the year. Many of the tender vegetables were killed by the freeze.

A Band Dance.—The members of the Grand Rapids band will give a dance at the opera hall on Thursday evening, October 2nd, to which the public generally is invited. The band boys promise a good time and as the full band will furnish the music there is no reason why everybody should not have a good time. The dance is for the benefit of the band and tickets will be sold at one dollar each, spectators twenty-five cents.

Buying Potatoes.—The potato buyers in this section started up on Monday morning purchasing tubers for southern market, the price offered being 20 cents per bushel. This is rather a low figure, but those interested report that large shipments have been received every day in the southern market. Very little stock is coming in at this price.

Business Change.—Max Steinberg of the east side has purchased the second hand store on the west side from Jake Smuckler, and will hereafter conduct the establishment himself. Mrs. Smuckler informs us that everything will be as quiet as a graveyard on the Bowery now that she and the children are going to leave.

Marriage Licenses.—The county clerk issued marriage licenses to the following parties during the past week: William Saitow and Anna Ahrens, both of the town of Richfield. Leon J. Lignan of the town of Carson, Portage county and Miss Mary Koonp of the town of Milladore.

McKinley Service.—A large congregation assembled at the Congregational church on Sunday evening to hear the service preached by Pastor Shaw commemorative of the late William McKinley. The sermon was a good one and was highly appreciated by those in attendance.

Democratic Caucuses.—The caucuses for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention occur on Saturday night at the various polling places in the city, and all good democrats are requested to turn out and appoint a delegate from their ward.

To Catch Burglars.—Charles Dougherty and Bert Gitchell have purchased the patent right for six counties for the handling of a new burglar alarm system, which, if anything can be judged by the way it works, promises to revolutionize the burgling business altogether.

The system is so arranged that it is connected with all the doors and windows of a house, and after the place has been shut up for the night it will be pretty hard for any person to get in without notifying those inside.

The thing works by electricity and if the knob on one of the doors is even turned or if a window is raised so much as an inch the inmates of the house are notified of the fact by the continuous ringing of a six inch gong that makes noise enough to raise the dead.

The system can also be used in the daytime to notify the people in the house when any person enters a door, as it can be set so that it will give only a short ring when a door is opened, so that the system is useful both night and day if the owner cares to make use of it.

The bell responds to the touch of an intruder so quickly that it is not necessary for a door to be opened, but rings simply upon the turning of the knob and continues to ring if the door is opened until someone gets up and either chokes it off or closes the door. The system can be placed in a store down town and the wires led to the residence of the owner, so that he will be notified of any attempt to enter the place of business during the night.

Taken altogether the system is very complete and parties who are in need of anything of the sort should see Messrs. Dougherty and Gitchell and have the system explained to them and see the working model of the same. It is worth examining if you have nothing to steal.

Announcement.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Wood county, subject to the action of the democratic county convention, and if nominated and elected I shall exert my best efforts to discharge the duties of the office as they should be done.

Signed RICHARD SCHIEBE, Nekoosa, Wis.

FORMING A PAPER TRUST.

Chicago Brokers Engineering Plan for Combine of Mills.

AFTERSTATE PROPERTY

Promoters are Trying to Buy the Principal Lands in the Fox River Valley.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—A proposition which may result in another immense paper mill trust is now being considered by the manufacturers in the Fox River valley, who have been approached by a firm of Chicago brokers and asked to grant options for the sale of all their papermill interest throughout the state. The trust will not only include the mills of this valley and state, but will also take in Minnesota and Michigan. The new combine will be known as the American Consolidated Paper Company and will be capitalized at $50,000,000. The options, if granted, will hold good until January 1, 1903.

According to John Strange of Oshkosh, formerly connected with the John Strange Paper Company of Neenah, it is the intention of the combine to include all the papermill property in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan. In case it is found impossible to include the mills of the latter state, and options can be secured on the mills of Wisconsin and Minnesota, the project will irrespectively be furthered and include merely the mills of these two states. A number of local manufacturers would willingly relinquish their interests could they secure the price, but it is understood that some of the leading papermill men in the valley would refuse the proposition for any figure which the trust capitalists are likely to offer. The entire matter is still in its incipency and nothing definite has been stated. Some of the mill men have not yet been approached, while others have expressed themselves as being opposed to the movement.

BONDS ARE ILLEGAL.

State Holds $250,000 of Securities Which Were Issued Without Any Legal Right.

West Superior, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—The state is vitally interested in a suit against the city of Superior now pending in the supreme court. It is that of the United National Bank against the city, the bank suing on bonds. In the lower court here Judge Vinje held that these bonds, supposedly issued as a special obligation and not a general obligation against the city, were a general obligation. That was what the bank wanted, but the court did not stop there, he went on and said that if these bonds were a general obligation the city had no right to issue them in the manner it did, making the levy for them. The bank appealed this. The state of Wisconsin has $250,000 of bonds similar to those in this case, they having been purchased during the Peck administration with moneys from the state educational fund as a means of investing the money.

GIRLS GET TOO GAY.

Young Women Too Vigorous in Charivari Demonstration at La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 1.—[Special.]—Additional warrants were issued today in the case brought by the father of Mrs. Emily Waters, a bride, against numerous fair young lady friends of Mrs. Waters and her new husband, because it is alleged they were too vigorous in their demonstrations of joy at the charivari on the wedding night. Ida Williams, May and Maggie Bailey, Mrs. Grove, Anna Burrow, Hilda Jacobs, Anna Hinkley and Frankie Adams have now been summoned to appear in the criminal court.

A. J. HAYWARD RETURNS.

Prominent Lumberman Comes to This State from Washington.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—A. J. Hayward, one of the early loggers on the Chippewa river and after working the city of Hayward, in Sawyer county, is now a resident here from Seattle, Wash., yesterday to close up a deal for the purchase of a large tract of pine in Washington, owned by a syndicate of which Frederick Weyerhaeuser is the head. It will be several days before the deal will be closed.

DRIVER ESTATE IN COURT.

Heirs Are Fighting Over the Disposition of $600.

Racine, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—There is a hotly contested case now on in the circuit court. The attorneys for the executor of the Thomas Driver estate recently sold the homestead to pay a mortgage. There was $600 over the amount of the mortgage and this sum was turned over to Thomas and Sinclair Driver, the executors. Now the other heirs have brought suit to have the money turned over to the trustee, Charles R. Carpenter.

FALLS FROM A TRAIN.

Young Man So Badly Hurt He Dies Soon After Being Found.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—A young man, Alfred Lowell, with his name and with a ticket on his person showing La Crosse to be his destination was picked up along the track of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road near Peterson so badly injured that he died a short time after. He claimed to have a sister at Bristol, S. D., and had a seaman's certificate in his pocket. He fell from a train and was run over.

MAN CUT TO PIECES.

Stranger Meets Death Under Train Wheels Near Eau Claire.

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—An unknown man was cut to pieces by the Omaha limited train from Chicago this morning, a mile from Fall Creek. It is supposed he was a tramp.

Cold Kills Cucumbers.

Oconto, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—Alart & McGuire, who operate a cucumber pickle salting house here, are meeting with very poor success this year on account of cold weather. The crop will not be one-fourth what it ought to be.

New Theater and Hotel for Kenosha.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—Contracts have been let for the erection of the Pabst hotel and theater in this city, which is to be built by the Pabst Brewing Company of Milwaukee. The building will cost more than $30,000.

LAWYER STUDENTS MUST BE VERY GOOD.

No Dancing will be Allowed and Permission to Go Out Evenings Must be Secured.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 13.—The faculty of Lawrence University has decided to start the new school year with a more strict code of rules for students than has been in vogue for years and every rule, it is announced, will be strictly enforced. Hitherto the men students have been allowed to visit theaters or to go to parties when they desired. While up to this year the strict supervision of the classes of entertainment attended by students has been limited to the young women students at Ormsby hall, this year the men living at private houses are also to be kept in restraint and will not be allowed to go out in the evening without getting permission. Dancing, it is understood, will be strictly forbidden.

RAISE TOBACCO IN MARATHON COUNTY.

The Experiment Shows New Possibilities for the Farmers in Northern Wisconsin.

Wausau, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—As an experiment, the Fenwood Lumber Company last spring planted two acres of its farm near Fenwood to tobacco and a crop of it has just been harvested amounting to about 10,000 pounds. She has been erected for the curing process and an expert is now on the grounds to see that the crop is properly cured, after which the value can be determined. For the benefit of the farmers who desire where tobacco can be raised in Northern Wisconsin the company has through the season kept an itemized account of all expenditures in raising the crop.

TWO MEN FALL WITH SWINGING SCAFFOLD.

Rope Breaks and Painters Have a Narrow Escape from Being Dashed to Death.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—A rope holding a swinging scaffold upon which two painters, Harry Elms and George Ernstrom, were at work at the South Side Manufacturing Company's mill, broke yesterday. Ernstrom fell thirty-five feet to the roof of the boiler room and narrowly escaped being fatally injured. His arm was broken. Hunt grabbed a hook and hung on until employees pulled him through a window.

CARRIES OPPOSITION TO MARRIAGE TO GRAVE.

William Engel Cut Off Son's Widow and Leaves Bequest to Woman of His Choice.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 13.—The will of William Engel, just filed, divides an estate valued at $80,000 among distant relatives. He had opposed the marriage of his son, Col. Frederick Engel, formerly a prominent in Wisconsin politics, and the latter's widow is cut off in the will. A legacy of $500 is given to Miss Edith Garst of Chicago, whom his father had desired him to marry. The widow of Col. Engel, it is said, will contest the will.

AGED MAN CAPSIZES WHILE OUT BOATING.

Gottfried Kison, 80 Years Old, Clings to Overturned Boat Half an Hour Before Rescued.

Lake Mills, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—Gottfried Kison, 80 years of age, had a narrow escape from drowning while fishing in Rock lake yesterday. In some manner his boat capsized, but he managed to get hold of the boat and held on until help came, when he was taken from the cold water in an exhausted condition, after being in the lake thirty minutes.

BURGLARIZES SAME STORE THREE TIMES.

Cartwright Boy Gets Caught Last Time and is Sent to the Industrial School.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—Frank Morely, a 15-year-old boy living at Cartwright, was sent to the industrial school at Waupun yesterday for burglary. He broke into the Farmers' store at that place three nights in succession and stole money. The last night he was caught in the act of tapping the till.

BIRDS FLY FOR A CUP.

Homing Pigeons of Green Bay Club to Take Long Flights.

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—The homing birds belonging to the members of the Green Bay district, National Federation of American Homing Pigeon fanciers, will be shipped to Berlin tomorrow. On Sunday morning early they will be liberated at that place for the flight home. This will be the 150-mile flight. A week from Sunday will be the 200-mile flight and upon the result of this will depend the ownership of the club cup for the next year.

BADGER SOLDIER IS DEAD.

Will Corrigan of Sparta Passes Away in Government Hospital.

Sparta, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special.]—News of the death of Will Corrigan, a former Sparta boy, has just reached this city. He was one of the mounted police in the Philippine islands for two years. He died in the Government Hospital at Sparta, N. M. He was a member of Company L, Third regiment, W. N. G., for a number of years.

Totals...	$16,013.75	$11,670.00	$27,216.25

A Big Short-horn Sale.

The interesting features on the grounds today were the sale of representative short-horn stock and the annual cavalcade of premium stock, given before the grand stand this morning.

The short-horn sale was largely attended by farmers from all parts of the state and a large number of young cattle of the short-horn breed was sold at very fair prices. The sale was conducted under the auspices of the Wisconsin Short-horn Breeders' Association, and was an experiment this year. It will be followed in subsequent years by sales of other breeds of Wisconsin cattle.

The best price paid for young short-horn cows at this sale on the grounds today was $275. The average price paid for twenty-six head of young cows was $240, nearly all of which were bought by Igo, Bardolf & Co. of Iowa. Several cows were sold to Wisconsin farmers. The best price paid for a bull was $230 for a 10-month-old specimen, and one 6-month-old brought $170. The bulls were not, however, in the very best show condition and they sold slowly.

Cost of Wreck.

The wreck was a great success. Two locomotives named "La Follette" and "Tosce" were started at full speed on a track 1000 feet in length. The engines crashed into each other with great force and both were demolished. The feature gave the spectators an idea of a railway collision.

The actual cost to the state board of giving the railway wreck, to which is attributed the success as to attendance this year, was $4500. Today the wrecked engines were sold, as scrap iron, to Henry Warschauer, a junk dealer on Chicago street, for $1100, so that the actual expense will be a little over $3000.

A Night Show the Attraction Next Year.

"If the Legislature next winter agrees to the idea, we will undoubtedly have a light show next year, giving other attractions by night," said President McKerrow this morning. "This feature for next year rests, of course, with the Legislature. State fairs in several states adopted the plan this year and it worked well. I understand there are about 70,000 artisans in Milwaukee who work steadily every week day in the year except the few national holidays."

Hoard is Enthusiastic.

Former Gov. W. D. Hoard and State Senator Barney Egan were in evidence all over the grounds today. Gov. Hoard declared it was the greatest fair and cheese show he ever saw and Barney Egan simply remarked "Plenty of veterans around."

Crowds Visit Jahrmarkt.

The Jahrmarkt gotten up by the merchants of the south side of Milwaukee, as an auxiliary attraction to the State fair, proved a great success and was visited by crowds of people daily. It is estimated that 50,000 people saw the unique fair on Tuesday, which was the banner day of the market. A drenching rain on Wednesday night made the opening somewhat a failure, but the fine weather of the following days more than made up for the gloomy start. Every feature that had been advertised was faithfully presented and the promoters of the affair are thoroughly satisfied with the result.

GIVES UP FORTUNE TO WED HIS LOVE.

Scotch Evangelist Marries Indiana Girl and Loses Riches—Coming to Wisconsin to Preach.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 12.—George Augustus Wain, a Scotchman who came to this country as an evangelist and preached for some time in the Baptist Church in Madison, Wis., has by his marriage on Wednesday to Miss Pearl Le Normandie of Hammond, Ind., renounced a fortune and his family estates in the fatherland.

During the days of his childhood Wain's mother took a beautiful Scotch girl into her home as a ward and told her that if she married her son when he grew to manhood he would be given the family estate, and that if he married any other girl he would be disinherited. He valued love above riches, however, and married the girl of his choice. The couple will return to Wisconsin, where Mr. Wain expects to preach.

MAN DISAPPEARS ON EVE OF MARRIAGE.

Collects Money and Starts for Train—Friends Fear He Met with Foul Play.

Reedsburg, Wis., Sept. 12.—Harry L. Steffer, a printer, is missing and his whereabouts is unknown. He left here on August 25 for Blair, Wis., where he was to have married Miss Henrietta Ellison, September 3. He went from here to Valley Springs, where he made some arrangements and secured $100. He left the hotel the following morning and started for the depot, which was the last seen of him. The station agent, with whom he was well acquainted, saw nothing of him, and said he was not on the platform when the train pulled out. There are fears of foul play.

EPISCOPAL RECTOR'S TENURE IS FOR LIFE.

The Decision of Bishop Grafton in the Case of Father Frank of Sheboygan.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Sept. 12.—Bishop Grafton has decided that according to the law of the Episcopal Church when a minister is called to the rectorship of a parish and the call is without limitation as to the time the tenure is for life unless terminated by mutual consent or the pastoral relationship is dissolved as provided for in the canons. The decision was in the case of Rev. Edward M. Frank, rector at Sheboygan.

Mr. Davies is a Watertown attorney, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He served as temporary chairman of the late Democratic convention in Milwaukee.

The bride is one of Ashland's most popular young ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies left for the East on an extended wedding tour.

Extensive Improvements Have Been Made—New Members of the Faculty.

Ripon, Wis., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—Ripon college is making extensive preparations for the opening of the college year, September 24. The conservatory of music has purchased new pianos. A new, modern steam heating plant is being placed in the building. The men's dormitory now being erected will be finished shortly after the term opens. The women's dormitory is being thoroughly overhauled and the dining room newly furnished throughout. Miss Mary C. Harwood, dean of women and professor of foreign languages, has just returned from a year's study in France. Prof. O. J. Marston, who has begun his work in the chair of history and economics, is moving to Ripon this week. Edmund D. Denison, the new principal of the academy, has returned from his vacation in Colorado. Dr. Hubert G. Shearin is spending his vacation in Kentucky and will move to this city next week to begin his work as professor of English language and literature.

LIGHTNING SETS FIRE TO A LARGE BARN.

It is Totally Destroyed—Farmer Suffers a Loss of $3500—Carried Small Insurance.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—The barn belonging to John Kane, a farmer in the town of Wheaton, was struck by lightning and burned during a severe electrical storm occurring afternoon. The entire crops of hay and grain, just harvested, were destroyed and the loss will be in the neighborhood of $2500. He had a small insurance in the Eagle Point Insurance Company.

FINDS CRACKMAN'S OUTFIT.

Anton Piese Experiments with Explosives and Losses Fingers.

Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 11.—Anton Piese, a boy of 14, found near Riverside cemetery a carpet bag containing a candle, coils of insulated wire, a dry battery and several cartridges, as well as a pack of cards. The boy undertook to experiment with one of the cartridges, and as a result he is minus part of two fingers and has a severe gash in his breast. The kitchen table upon which he was conducting his investigations was wrecked.

Monday the officers of the bank at Winneconne found that an attempt had been made to open the vault with dynamite. The police believe the kit found by the Piese boy was left by the Winneconne robbers.

REV. MCUTCHEEN RESIGNS.

Kilbourn Rector Goes to Church at Elmira, N. Y.

Baraboo, Wis., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—Rev. Robert McCutcheon has resigned as rector of the Episcopal Churches at Kilbourn and Delton and will go to Elmira, N. Y. His successor has not been chosen.

IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

Infuriated Husband Has His Spouse's Admiration Cast Into Jail for Disregarding Order.

Janesville, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Thomas Bickle of Milton Junction has been arrested, charged with speaking to Mrs. Louie Gallup in violation of an injunction restraining him from holding any intercourse with the woman. The injunction was secured by John B. Gallup, husband of the woman.

The interested men in the case are both carpenters and at the time they became acquainted both were married men with families. Mrs. Gallup is eleven years younger than her husband, being 26 years old. They have four children. Last winter Bickle appeared on the scene and trouble between the husband and wife began about the same time. Last December Bickle, who is the father of three children, secured a divorce from his wife on the ground of desertion. He then entered Gallup's employ and became acquainted with Mrs. Gallup. Gallup claimed in his petition for the injunction that Bickle made advances which his wife was inclined to accept and that finally he ordered Bickle from his home and forbade his wife speaking to the man of whom he believed he had a right to be jealous. He alleged that in spite of this the intimacy continued and that on several occasions his wife and her admirer met clandestinely. Gallup then secured an injunction restraining Bickle, his servants, agents and employees, from meeting Louie Gallup or from communicating with her by writing or by signs, or by doing anything to interfere with the marital relations existing between Gallup and his wife.

FIRE AT PRENTICE.

Tipping Over of a Lamp in Hotel Causes Conflagration in Wisconsin Village.

Prentice, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The accidental tipping over of a lamp in the Columbia hotel this morning caused a fire, which resulted in a loss of $50,000 before it was extinguished. The fire broke out at an early hour and spread rapidly until one whole block had been burned and part of another had been destroyed. The following buildings were consumed:

Owen Bros., general store and dwelling house.
The Columbia hotel.
S. T. Nelson's shoe store.
O'Brien's saloon.
C. Myers' hotel, laundry, barber shop and millinery store.
Emmerson Brothers' office.
Several barns and storehouses.
The total loss is about $50,000, partly insured.

OLYMPIA B. WILLIS LEADS SUFFRAGISTS.

Racine Woman is Elected President of the State Association—Do Not Go Into Politics.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The annual session of the Wisconsin Woman Suffrage Association closed this afternoon. Officers were elected at the morning session as follows:

President—Rev. Olympia Brown Willis, Racine.
Vice president—at-large—Mrs. Jessie N. Luther, Madison.
Recording secretary—Mrs. L. A. Rhodes, Lancaster.
Treasurer—Mrs. Ledia Woodward, Platteville.

Only four changes were made in district vice presidents. Resolutions were adopted declaring against child labor and the urging women to vote for the constitutional amendment taking the election of the state superintendent out of politics. No action was taken favoring any particular candidate for any office.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

West Superior Engineer is Killed in a Train Wreck on the Great Northern Road.

West Superior, Wis., Sept. 12.—H. T. Miller, residing in this city, an engineer on the Eastern Minnesota branch of the Great Northern, was killed this morning in a wreck near Hibbing, Minn. An ore laden train ran into a loaded freight car which had been switched to the main track from a siding. Miller was crushed beneath his engine, which was overturned with thirteen cars. Traffic will be delayed several hours.

DESTROY RESERVOIR.

The Roof of Building of City Plant at Calvesville is Burned.

Calvesville, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The roof of the city reservoir was destroyed last night by fire. This is the third time that the building has been fired by incendiaries. Two years ago the woodwork covering the big tank was partially consumed. Arrests were made but the case was dropped. Last January the building was twice destroyed. The contractor had just completed the third roof but had not removed his tools. These were destroyed. The loss is $300.

LITTLE BOY THROWS POWDER ON STOVE.

Eyesight is Destroyed by the Accident and the Stove is Badly Wrecked.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Johnny McCloud, aged 10, of Vinegar Hill, accidentally knocked a bottle of powder over on the stove and it exploded, wrecking the top of the stove and destroying the sight of one eye completely and injuring the other.

SCRATCH CAUSES DEATH.

Former Eau Claire Man Succumbs to Blood Poisoning.

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Casper Neherman, aged 60, died at Edmondton, Can. He was a pioneer of Eau Claire, but left this city to reside in South Dakota twenty years ago. From there he went to Edmondton and established bottling works. The remote cause of death was a scratch on his wrist, resulting from the bursting of a bottle. Blood poisoning set in.

BISHOP SUSTAINS RECTOR.

No Reason Why Father Frank of Sheboygan Should Resign.

CHARGES NOT SERIOUS.

Wardens Vote to Stop Minister's Salary Because He is Too Fond of Bicycle Riding.

Sheboygan, Wis., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—Bishop Grafton of Fond du Lac has sustained Father Leonard Frank, rector of Grace Episcopal Church of this city, in his determination not to resign in accordance with a request from the vestry of the church. No grave charges were laid at the clergyman's door, and the opposition to him seems to be more of a matter of trivial differences between rector and congregation.

Next month he will have concluded his first year's rectorship, and at a meeting Tuesday night the wardens adopted a resolution to cut off his salary after the conclusion of his first year's work. The motion was ruled out of order by the chair, Rector Frank, but on an appeal it was sustained. The congregation is divided, though the younger members stand by the rector, who is a young man, and was formerly an assistant to the bishop at the Fond du Lac Cathedral.

It is claimed that Rev. Mr. Frank has not been punctual at church and Sunday school, but has kept parishioners waiting while he enjoyed a bicycle spin. It is also claimed that he has not made the customary visits to the homes of communicants. There were a number of such charges.

BATTERY DEFEATED BY MINNESOTA TEAM.

The Gophers Do Remarkable Work on the Artillery Range at Camp Douglas.

Camp Douglas, Wis., Sept. 11.—Minnesota's artillery team won the final contest by a score of 69 to 39. The highest scores of both teams were made on this the last day of the competition, Capt. Ludington scoring 21 for Wisconsin and Corp. Binsfeld 30 for Minnesota. The Gophers won, not because the Milwaukee men did not shoot well, but because of Minnesota's remarkable success in scoring hits.

Wisconsin won last year. The third and final competition of the series will be held at Lake City, Minn., next year. The total score:

Wisconsin—	Minnesota—
Capt. Ludington..... 23	Capt. Lagersted

Keys in Cold Storage for Moschele.
In the ice chest of a Germantown residence there are always lying four or five big keys. This is because the nose of the little son of the house bleeds every few days, and nothing stops the hemorrhage like the dropping of a large, cold key down the child's back. He squirms and cries out and then, in a moment, he is well; his nose stops bleeding. A physician said yesterday that the cold key remedy for hemorrhage of the nose was as old, he supposed, as keys themselves are. "It is a very good remedy," he went on, "and its curative power is due to the shock it gives."—Philadelphia Record.

THE GRIPPY GIRAFFE.
Said the camel M. D. to the giraffe giraffe: "I wonder you are having a chill." "If you'll follow my advice, And be cured in a trice, Take a dose of quinine in a pill."
But the shaking giraffe shook his head in disdain.
Said he: "You're a witless deceiver; Fire your cure for the grippie! I might need to be treated for fever."—Harper's Magazine.

A best man and how he met an emergency, according to The Philadelphia North American: "At 6 o'clock in the morning of the wedding day, in a town up York state, a postoffice messenger rang the doorbell at the home of the bride-elect and handed a special delivery letter to the servant who responded. It was addressed to the best man, who had come 500 miles to second his best friend in the ceremony, and was, with several others, the guest of the bride's parents. The best man was still sound asleep, but he was promptly awakened, on the supposition that the letter must contain something of importance. It did, indeed. Kneeling his eyes in an effort to understand he tore open the envelope and was with a large needle, of the sort men always choose when emergency compels them to sew, thrust through it, and a foot of double black thread trailing in a loose tangle down the page. The best man thought it was a joke, but he couldn't see, and he was about to become resentful when, upon turning the sheet over, he found this hastily written note: 'Dear Brother: Mother says there is a button off your dress coat. It is in your right-hand vest pocket. Sew it on.' Graveling out of bed the best man examined his coat and laughed to see the situation had been accurately described in the letter. 'Just like mother,' he said. 'I'll wager she lost a whole night's sleep thinking about that confounded button.' Later in the day four bridesmaids cheerfully assisted in making the repairs, and this telegram went to mother: 'Button sewed on. Don't worry.'"

In Chicago—Mr. Dearborn (to Mrs. D., formerly Mrs. Clark)—By the way, Helen, I saw your first husband today. What a happy looking man he is! He seems utterly without care. Mrs. Dearborn—Yes? That reminds me. I saw your first wife the other day. Never saw her looking so cheerful.—Boston Transcript.

Pat was snatching around the Erie basin looking for work. Noticing a gang of men loading a large steamer alongside, he walked up to the foreman and asked: "D'yez want any more hands, Cap'n?" There were a few men carrying anvils singly from the quay above along a plank on to the ship.
"Can you carry those anvils?" inquired the foreman.
"Shure," replied Pat, with the smile of a man who had an easy job on.
"Very well, you can start now."
"What's the pay, mister, beggin' yer pardon?"
"Piece work—2 cents for each one you carry on to the ship."
Pat instantly stripped, seized an anvil, and carried it with ease across the plank and on to the ship. With the view of doubling his pay, he picked up a couple of the next journey, and was walking along the plank when the plank broke and down went Pat into the water with both anvils—one in each hand.
Nothing was seen but a bubble for a while.
Presently Pat appeared on the surface of the water for the first time and yelled out: "Hello, there! Chuck me down a rope, or bellerog. O'll drop thaise blawky things!"—New York Times.

—New York Herald.

A story was told at a recent dinner of a New York literary club which goes back to the time when a certain famous man was governor of Massachusetts.
Along a country road in the north of Maine plodded a French-Canadian with a trained bear, making his way to a lumber camp. At a crossroad he met a long-whiskered Yankee driving a mule. They looked at each other and were continuing on their way, when suddenly the Frenchman picked up his ears.
"Glong there, Napoleon!" the farmer drawled to his mule.
The Frenchman stopped short and listened again.
"Git up, Napoleon!" called the Yankee.
"I say, ma friend," called the Canadian, bringing his bear to a halt, "what for you call ze zhuackass Napoleon?"
"That's his name," replied the Yankee, indifferently.
"Well, he is no name for a zhuackass. Napoleon was a great general."
"So's my mule," replied the other, good-naturedly. "Gendap, Napoleon!"
The Frenchman lost patience. "Look ere, ma friend," he said, "you call zhuackass Napoleon vance more time. I tell you w'at I do. You see dat black bear? Well, I poke his one eye out an' call him Dan Butler."

Said the Sunday school teacher, "All little children who lie, or steal, or fight, or don't go to church will go to the bad place when they die." Little Charlie burst into tears. "But you won't go there," continued the teacher, kindly. "No-no," replied the child, blubbering. "I don't know that," blubbered Charlie. "I don't all my little friends will."

A young lady was teaching the primary class in a city Sunday school. The lesson was the story of the wandering Israelites who were miraculously fed upon manna, says a Harper's Drawer writer. "I don't know," she said in a soft aside to me, "just what manna looks like, but I have this bottle of homeopathic pills for an illustration," taking from her pocket a tiny phial and shaking it lightly. She made the story interesting, and every little face was turned upward expectantly as she proceeded. She told of the cloud by day and the pillar of fire at night, the coming of the quails and the fall of manna, then rapidly reviewed the whole, asking questions to test the attention of her audience. "And what did the Lord feed the children of Israel upon?" she asked. "Pills!" they all shouted, without a dissenting voice. Then for a moment there was silence while the teacher bent low, to look into her reticule after something which was not to be found.

"Sar, pa," began the bill collector's little son.
"Now, see here," his father interrupted. "I don't want you to ask me any foolish questions."

"Judge, my lord," said the prisoner, "before I enter my plea I'd like to ask a few questions."
"If I go on trial, shall I have to sit here and listen while the lawyers ask hypothetical questions of the jurors?"
"And then hear all the handwriting experts?"
"Of course."
"And follow the reasoning of the chemistry and insanity experts?"
"Very probably."
"Well, then, my lord, I'm ready to enter my plea."
"What?"
"Guilty."—Tit-Bits.

"I wonder what makes a man's hair fall out so fast when once it starts?"
"Worry," answered the man who always has an explanation ready. "Nothing tends to make a man bald so much as worry, and nothing worries a man so much as the idea that he is becoming bald."—Tit-Bits.

The late Senator McMillan of Michigan used to tell with great glee about a green Irishman employed on his country place near Detroit.

This man had a severe attack of malarial fever, and the senator told him he would send him some medicine, which he did—a box of five-grain capsules of quinine. Upon the occasion of his next visit to the farm the senator called on him and asked if he received the medicine all right.

"Yes, sor," said Pat, "and it cured me, too, but it was a lot of trouble to dig the medicine out of those little shells."—New York Times.

Health in the Tropics.

One of the greatest discoveries of modern times is the proof that the unhealthfulness of many tropical countries is not due to some mysterious poison in the air attacking strangers from the Northern climes with special virulence, but to the parasite of a mosquito, the air which blows over the warmer and most fruitful parts of the earth is as pure as that of any other portion of the world. Our fight with malarial diseases is half won now that we know what causes them. It is not miasma rising from wet lowlands and swamps, but the mosquito case. We know that the enemy that is to be fought and conquered. We know, as has been proved both in Africa and on Louis Island, that the mosquito does not travel far from his breeding place and that in many regions it will not be very difficult to exterminate him.

The investigation of other tropical diseases is now proceeding on lines suggested by the discovery of the parasite of malarial fever has already yielded to these resources. It is reasonable to expect that effective methods of combating these diseases will reward the investigations now being carried on in accordance with the most recent methods of investigation.—New York Sun.

DAMAGED BY SEA WATER.

The Rapid Corrosion of Steel Rails in the Tropics Near the Sea.

Mr. Bricks, one of the engineers in charge of the railroads owned by the French government, recently read a paper in which he said that sea water, particularly in tropical countries, has a very destructive influence on steel rails. A few weeks ago the same observation was made by Dr. Delprat, the engineer in charge of the Dutch railroads in Sumatra.

This gentleman says that the short railroad at Fort Emma, one of coast of Sumatra, which has been in operation for ten years and which occupies a position only a little above mean high tide, has been greatly damaged by sea water, the rails having been largely eaten away by rust. The rails on one of the short branches of this road, which runs over a breakwater, have been diminished in weight about two and a half pounds for every three and a half feet the entire length of the rails. He says that every year these rails are losing about 4 per cent. of the weight of new rails. The width of the rail surface has been diminished about one inch.

The engineer urges that for all railroads and street car routes occupying a position near the sea in the tropics rails of unusual width of surface should be employed. He says that any one who may discover a method of protecting steel rails from the corrosive action of salt water will make a fortune.—New York Sun.

Don't Give Up.
Don't be discouraged by past efforts to find relief and cure from the myriads of ills that come from sick kidneys. You may pass nights of sleepless tossing annoyed by frequent urination. Your back may ache like a toothache or sudden twinges and twinges of backache pain make life a misery. Perhaps you have nervous spells, are weak, tired out, depressed. There is cure for all of this and for every trouble of the bladder and kidneys. Read this case and note it tells how well the cure was tested.

Charles Lindgren, sealer of freight cars on the L. S. & M. S. R. R., La Porte, Ind., says: "I have greater faith in Doan's Kidney Pills to-day than I had in the fall of 1897, when I began taking them, and made a public statement of the result. At that time I had suffered with lameness and soreness of the back which was so excruciating that I could scarcely turn in bed and Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured this trouble. I am always ready to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills personally to anyone requiring a kidney remedy. After a lapse of three years I make this statement which shows my undoubted faith in the preparation."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Lindgren will be mailed on application to any part of the U. S. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, 50 cents per box.

Single Beds for Real Rest.
If single beds were more numerous than they are a great many people would be better off. When one is tired, sick, cross, restless, out of sorts, he or she ought to sleep alone and not communicate by proximity the maladies that affect him. The brain becomes when sick go away by themselves till they die or get over their troubles, and this insures a great many human beings have. Those that have it are best if indulged in it, not to the slightest degree of neglect, however. Where two children in a family must share the same room, in a great many cases they would be better off to have two single beds rather than one wide double bed. We can share a great many things with those we love, but solitude clings to us from birth to death. We come into the world alone, we must go out of it alone, and we live in it alone, in a certain important sense, and to get and keep our "bearings" we must sometimes be left alone. It is good that we should be.—Family Doctor.

A Mirror for Theaters.
The little theatrical mirror just invented will call down blessings on her head from all theatergoers, masculine as well as feminine, if it is placed, as it should be, on the backs of all the theater seats in the country. It will not only assist in the proper adjustment of the ladies' hats after the play is over, but will also allow persons to take a survey of the house behind them, doing away with the stretching of the neck now what they are wearing. The mirror is secured to the back of the seat by means of a curved arm, which fastens against the chair back when not in use. The glass is secured to the outer end of the arm by a double joint, allowing it to swing horizontally and tilt in a vertical plane, thus placing the desired rear view. If one does not wish to use the glass it can be used as a support for the hat.—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

In Bed Three Months.
Oolitic, Ind., Sept. 15th.—Mr. W. A. Terry, of this place, suffered for months with a very severe case of Kidney Trouble.
He was so very bad that he was almost confined to his bed for three months.
He tried many medicines, but he could not get any relief till he commenced to use a remedy introduced here some time ago as a cure for Kidney Trouble, the name of which is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Terry says that the second day after commencing to use this remedy he could notice a very marked improvement in his condition, and in a short time he was able to go about again.
He is naturally filled with gratitude to Dodd's Kidney Pills for the immense amount of good they have done him and says:
"I would recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to every sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble, for from my experience I am sure they are the best medicine to be had for all diseases of this nature."

That Book Deal.

Last Sunday's Milwaukee Sentinel contained a couple of columns of type explaining the deal by which Superintendent Harvey was beaten for renomination at the time of the republican convention at Madison. The matter is signed by George Buckstaff of Oshkosh, who engineered the deal, and Senator Stont who was also intimately interested in the matter. They state positively that they secured the sum of $2,000 from the independent book companies, which sum they turned over to Governor La Follette, who accepted it knowing where it came from and for what purpose it had been obtained. The independent book companies stated that should a man be brought out who would bear Harvey they would contribute an additional five or ten thousand dollars. It seems that Superintendent Harvey had been favoring the book trust either for financial reasons or otherwise, which are not stated, and the independent concerns wanted a man in the office whom they could handle for awhile, so they governed themselves accordingly.

Now if the independent book companies can afford to contribute the sum of ten or twelve thousand dollars toward the election of a state superintendent, doesn't it look as if somebody was going to get robbed during the next two years provided their man is elected? It looks as if there might have been something of this sort going on in the past but there is no doubt of what would take place in the future.

There is no question but what Mr. La Follette knew why the independent book concerns wanted a change in superintendents in the state of Wisconsin. A man who has been striving for office as long as he has could hardly help knowing it. He knew that they intended to get their ten thousand dollars back later on, and not only get it back but make a profit on the investment. The most rabid half-breed will have to admit this or else claim that their candidate has not got the intelligence of an ordinary schoolboy, which they are hardly able to do in view of what the people have seen of him in the past.

The republicans will tell you that this $2,000 contributed by the independent book concerns was only a gift to the campaign fund pure and simple; that all political campaigns have to be staked by somebody in order to carry the work along, and that this deal was only an ordinary one in which there was no fraud by anybody. This is not so. It is a fact that many political campaigns, especially those of the republican party, are carried on by money obtained from the trusts, which expect in return legislation whereby they can get their money back and a good many dollars with it, but the fact that this has been done does not make it right nor lawful.

This deal with the book concerns was exactly the same as if our county superintendent had accepted money from a book manufacturing concern to carry on his campaign, with the understanding that he would make certain rules and recommendations among the school officers of the county by virtue of which the company's books would have to be used to the exclusion of those of other concerns. The people would know that this was crooked work and they would condemn it without hesitation, and there is no reason why the deal made with the governor should not be condemned also.

It may be said that this is not half as bad as many political games that are played every day. This may be so. But in Governor La Follette we have a man who has made all his fine plays on the ground of his honesty. He has told us of the corruption of others and led us to believe that he and his administration were free from anything of this sort, and this has been repeated so often that the people had almost come to believe it. Wonder if their confidence has been shaken just a trifle by this deal. It has often been said that every man has his price if you can only go high enough, but it would seem that $2,000 was rather a low figure for a governor of Wisconsin to betray one of his fellow officers, after all the hot air he has been giving us about reforming different branches of the state government, reducing the expenditures, tax reform, making the corporations pay their share, etc., etc. Maybe this was the way he figured on making the corporations pay.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford county, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when editor Ward, of Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully, and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy, and this time the dose cured me." For sale by Johnson & Hill Co. and Wood County Drug Co.

Not Doomed For Life.

"I was treated for three years by good doctors," writes W. A. Greer, of McConnellsville, O., "for piles, and fistula, but, when all failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me in two weeks." Cures Burns, Boils, Cuts, Corns, Sores, Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Piles or no pay. 25c at John E. Daly's drug store.

A GOOD THING

Household and Stable Requisite.

Greene's Infallible Liniment is endorsed by beards of families, athletes, horsemen, everybody who has used it as the best remedy for the household, the stable, the gymnasium and the training quarters.

No other remedy can take its place and do its work so satisfactorily. On man or horse, in training it is used as a "rub-out." It quickly cures the bruises of the pugilist and football player; the strains, sprains, chafes, swellings, lameness or muscle soreness of the bicyclist and
the race horse; the hurts of childhood and the accidents and ails of everyday life.

"The rub-out is great stuff. I like it better than anything I ever used." Bob Fitzsimmons.

"I have used Greene's Liniment on my horses, shall never be without it." Wm. A. Parker.

"The best preparation for training purposes.
Keeps the muscles from hardening and relieves all soreness and stiffness." Jos. H. Choraski.

"I find it valuable for bruises, sprains and sore muscles. It is an excellent conditioner." Jas.
J. Corbett.

"Directly, 2:00, would never have been able to start in 29 if I hadn't used Greene's Liniment.
It kept his legs sound and clean all season. I also used it on Tommy Britton, 2:08; Giles Noyes,
2:05; Sherman Clay, 2:03; Lord Roseberry,
2:05; Harrison, Jr., 2:12. I am certain that much of the success of these horses was due to Greene's Liniment." Geo. West, (Trainer.)

"I have used Greene's Liniment for horses and for my own aches and pains. It is a standard remedy in my family." H. J. Kline.

"As a family remedy it is invaluable." J. B.
Jackson.

"In my family it has been used with perfectly satisfactory results." G. F. Moore.

In thousands of homes throughout the land Greene's Infallible Liniment is a "stand-by" that is confidently and satisfactorily used by old and young. There is only one thing more convincing than the testimony of others: that is actual

F. McKinnon states that his company has been shipping wood by rail
for some time past, part of it going to Sioux City, Iowa. This unusual proceeding is caused by the scarcity of anthracite coal, which is affecting the price of all kinds of fuel. A better price per cord is received for this hub
and spoke wood where it is shipped than right heretofore, and all the company has to do is to load it on the cars, while the wood that is sold about town has to be delivered. A raise in the price of wood may be looked for about the 1st of October, and the public should govern themselves accordingly.

—It is probable that there has been no greater strides made in any branch
of science during the past years than that of the treatment of the eye. A few years ago when a person had anything the matter with his eyes he was either near sighted or far sighted and the most that could be done was
to furnish them with a pair of twenty-five cent glasses and let them go.
If the glasses were poorly fitted and caused the patient all kinds of inconvenience another pair was tried and the patient told to wear them awhile and see if they did not work all right.
Now this has all been changed. Today with the aid of the ophthalmoscope
the skilled optician can look at and into your eye and see what is the trouble and if there is any possibility of relieving your ailment he can do it. The Ophthalmoscope and Retinoscope is indeed a wonderful instrument and with its use the utmost recesses of the eye can be examined and any trouble that exists may be detected at once no matter if it be in the lens of the eye, the retina or the optic nerve. The only instrument of the kind in this section is owned by
A. P. Hirzy, and as he is a graduate optician and an expert on optical matters the instrument naturally proves of great power in his hands.
If you have any trouble with your eyes it would stand you in hand to visit Mr. Hirzy and have him examine you and it is entirely probable that he can correct your trouble and make your vision so that the world will have an entirely different aspect to you.
If you cannot call on him get him by telephone and he will try to get to you and fix you out just the same.

SHORT SIGHT OR MYOPIA.

In this defect the diameter of the eye is too long from front to rear and it is found only among civilized races. Who ever heard of a nearsighted Indian? Persons with this difficulty see perfectly when objects are held near the eyes, but distant objects are dim and often invisible. For instance, a person may be able to read perfectly and yet be unable to see the time on a large dial a few feet distant. Nearsighted children often injure their eyes endeavoring to see during blackboard exercises. It is the duty of teacher to report all such cases to parents and to see that the child is fitted with suitable spectacles. Great care should be taken in the selection of glasses for the nearsighted, as too strong glasses aggravate the trouble and may result in blindness.

At last came the eventful day, and Dame Nature could never have made a more glorious one, for the sun shone from a cloudless sky, cool, delicious breezes blew, and everything looked bright and beautiful.

When Carol assumed her bridal robes she looked too sweet and sad for mortal eyes, and even the heart of the fiercest old man throbbled with a half-pity when she directed a look at him, as if in mute entreaty.

He had hoped against hope, and now only anger and despair reigned in his heart. There was no chance of rescue left now, it seemed to him, and the sacrifice must go on, though it cut him to the heart to see his darling child wedded to such a desperate villain as he knew the Captain to be.

From an open window a pair of keen eyes watched all that was transpiring. Though many years had passed away since he had set eyes on the interior of the Terrace, Roger did not seem to forget certain things about the mansion which he had been familiar at that time, and from among the vines outside a little balcony he could observe without being himself seen. Not twenty yards away the swiftest horse in all the surrounding country was in waiting, hidden by the trees.

Roger Darrel's was not the only form that crouched at a window and looked on, for a man dressed in black, and with a certain foreign air about him, was at one of those opening upon the piazza, and his eyes were glued upon Captain Grant with a cold gleam in them, while from his mustached lips fell the words: "At last I have run him down!"

The ceremony commenced. It was destined never to go through, and yet not through this mysterious foreigner who appeared to have such an attachment to the soldier himself came any interruption. From the easy attitude he had assumed, it was easy to see that he intended watching it through.

"One wife more cannot hurt the regime, for he has already had at least ten, so far as my knowledge of him goes. As for the girl, she loves him not, and it will only phase her to learn that she is not his wife. The Count plays his cards well, but that branded hand and the black glove have betrayed him."

In the midst of the ceremony, however, quite an unlooked-for event occurred. Both at Richmond Terrace and Darrel Chase there were machines for manufacturing gas, such as is the general custom among the wealthy planters of the Southern States, and the whole supply was furnished by a single pipe.

While the minister was just propounding to Carol the solemn question as to whether she would "take this man to be your lawfully wedded husband" sudden and complete darkness came upon the whole house, every gas jet being extinguished on the instant.

The effect can be imagined. Consternation filled the mind of almost every one, and the few guests present were alarmed, not knowing what was about to happen.

Captain Grant did not realize whether this was an accident or part of a deep-laid plan to rob him of his intended bride, so, in order to be ready for emergencies, he threw one arm around her. At almost the same instant, however, Carol was jerked from his encircling arm, and he received a blow on the head that staggered him. He made a clutch, but his arm only clasped the empty air. Whether the young girl had gone he could not guess.

A light was struck, and upon being applied to the gas the rooms were once more illuminated. Then the truth became apparent.

Carol was missing.

Whether she had gone, or who had carried her away, not a soul in that room could say. Perhaps Lawrence Richmond could give a shrewd guess, and, as something like the truth came through his mind, he could not help the faint, grim smile that crept over his countenance. It caught the eye of Captain Grant, and in another instant he was at the man's side, his hand clutching his arm.

"You have sealed your doom by this act, Lawrence Richmond," he hissed, savagely.

CHAPTER VII.

The Captain's face was as black as a thundercloud when he grated those words out between his teeth, and well might he be enraged, believing, as he did, that this was some of the treacherous work of the man whom he held in his power.

"You have played me false, Richmond, deny it if you dare," he hissed. "Mark even now I can hear your accomplice rifling off, and doubtless carrying your daughter with him—a second Lockhart. Highly romantic, no doubt, but you shall suffer for it, even if it should be the last act of my life. A brave foe I can honor, but a traitor I despise, and would risk life to give him the punishment he deserves."

"Listen to me!" cried the old man, now fully alarmed for his safety, as he saw that the mad soldier-adventurer was in a fit state to do any rash act, "although I would have saved my daughter if it had been possible, yet I swear to you I had not the remotest suspicion of such a thing occurring; but now I see through it all plainly. Do you know who has carried away your bride, Captain Grant? The young master of Darrel Chase has been here."

"Roger Darrel here?" snarled the Captain.

His coolness, which had always seemed a part of his nature, had apparently deserted him at this juncture, leaving him the embodiment of savage rage. The idea advanced by the old man might have gained more headway but that in again searching the face of Lawrence Richmond with his keen eyes, he detected a gleam in the other's orbs which it seemed to him was induced by triumph.

That settled it. All he might say would go for naught, and Lawrence Richmond saw from the flash upon the other's face that he was doomed. The soldier clutched him, and his face, purple with passion, looked more like the possession of a fiend than a human being.

"You have played me false, and now I shall bring ruin upon you. I told you it was a dangerous game playing with fire, and it seems you would not heed it. The consequences be upon your own head. Do you hear me, traitor?"

His hand had caught the old man's throat, and in his fury of madness he would in all probability have choked Lawrence Richmond, for the few guests present were so filled with horror that they could move neither hand nor limb; but at this juncture the form of the mysterious foreigner darted across the floor. One hand fell upon the shoulder of the crazed soldier.

"Just in time to prevent the charge of murder from being added to the list of crimes of which you stand accused, my dear Count."

The Captain did not relax his grip upon the old man, but, as the voice of the stranger reached his ears, it was observed that he not simply shivered, but shuddered like a man with the ague.

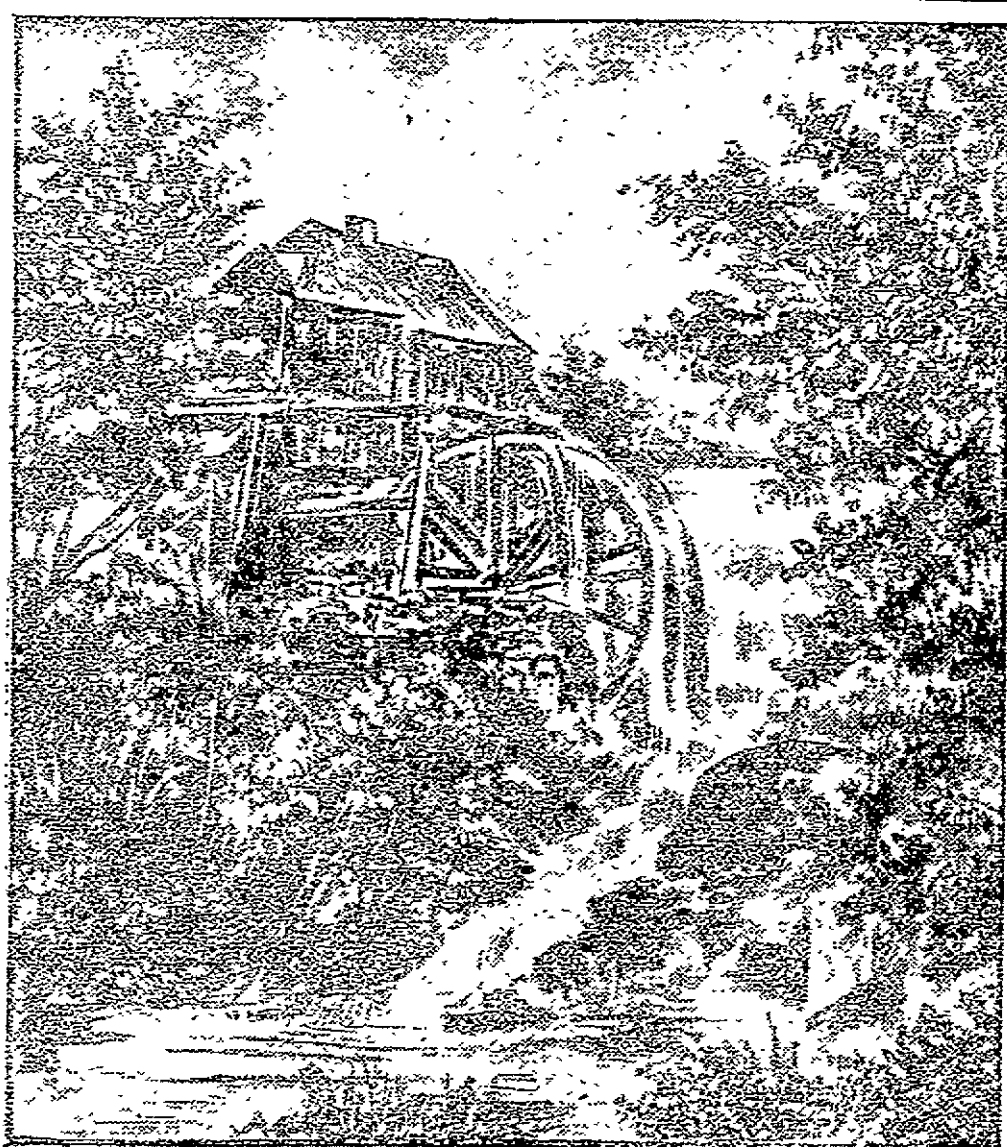

He slowly turned his head, his face still scarlet, and there was a look in his eyes that was most wonderful to behold, but whether of fear or defiance, or both, it would have been hard to say. For half a minute he looked at the man in black over his shoulder. The light deserted his eyes and sullen fury alone raged there.

"What do you seek?" he finally demanded.

"I seek you, Count. Be careful how you carry yourself if you would not have all made known here," returned the newcomer.

Cunning crept into the eyes of the Captain. Some men would have been foolish enough to have flown at the stranger, and have been defeated, but he was too wise for such a false course.

"Gentlemen, you will excuse me for a few minutes while I retire with this person and explain to him the mistake under which he labors," said the Captain.

THE HAUNTED MILL.

Of course those present murmured an audible assent, at which the mysterious stranger smiled, and came very near laughing.

He accompanied the Captain, however, and there were some who saw that he held in his hand a little revolver, which was kept half concealed. Evidently the foreign gentleman had no intention of being overpowered by treachery.

Captain Grant went away with a look upon his face of mingled hate and shrewd cunning—a look that would perhaps have alarmed the foreigner had he noticed it and been more cautious; but he was not willing to give the Count, as he called Grant, credit for the sagacity he really possessed.

There were those present who really expected they would never see him again. They knew not who the mysterious man was, but he was evidently on the Captain's trail, and upon the face of the latter they had read guilt plainly.

Lawrence Richmond was among the number. He felt sure that the Nemesis for whom he had longed had come, and that the Captain had fallen into his grasp. That it was due to the judicious item in the newspapers he also had no doubt.

Now that the skies seemed brightening, his thoughts turned upon the abduction of his child. There had been no change in his ideas thus far, and when he declared to the Captain that it was his opinion Roger Darrel was the one they had to thank for this madcap act he spoke his convictions truly.

He was just about to give some orders in reference to pursuit, which would have been quite useless, as the bold abductor must be miles away by this time, when one of the windows of the room was darkened and a man entered in whom they recognized Captain Grant.

He was alone!

CHAPTER VIII.

Although Carol Richmond had hoped for something to occur in her favor when hope seemed even a delusion and a hollow mockery, she had never expected it to come in the way it did.

When the gas was so suddenly extinguished, through the agency of the shrewd Andrew, who had arranged all these matters with the young man beforehand, she too was somewhat alarmed by the total darkness that came upon the scene. Before she had time, however, to collect her senses she felt the Captain's arm encircle her waist and draw her close to him. Then she was suddenly torn from his grasp.

Into whose possession she had now come Carol could not even guess, and taken even at the very worst, it could not be more bitter than finding herself in the arms of the man she hated and despised—Captain Grant.

Somehow, a delicious sense of repose seemed to pervade her whole being, and she gave way to the multitude of fancies that flooded her brain, by fainting dead away.

She was dimly conscious of a jolting motion, as if one the back of a horse and moving rapidly, but it was a long time before consciousness returned in full. She was still clasped in the arms of her abductor, and looking up, could see his face in the mystic star light.

It was the countenance of Roger Darrel!

He seemed to be aware of the fact that she had once more come back to life, for presently he looked down and softly spoke her name.

"Oh, Roger, you have saved me from that dreadful man. I am so glad, so glad."

It was all she could say; simple enough in itself, true, and yet the relieved cry of an overburdened heart. Roger looked down upon her tenderly, and even drew her closer to him, an action she could do nothing to prevent, even had she so desired.

How long they had been riding Carol could not even guess, but it must have been quite a time. Where was Roger taking her? The thought came to her suddenly, and she instantly made up her mind to ask.

"I will take you anywhere you wish, Carol. I was heading for the old ruined mill, where, as you know, the widow, Mrs. Randall, lives alone. If you can think of any better place, tell me, and I shall carry you there. My only object in carrying you off was to save you from a designing villain, a man whom I have met before, and about whom there is a mysterious familiarity that puzzles me at times."

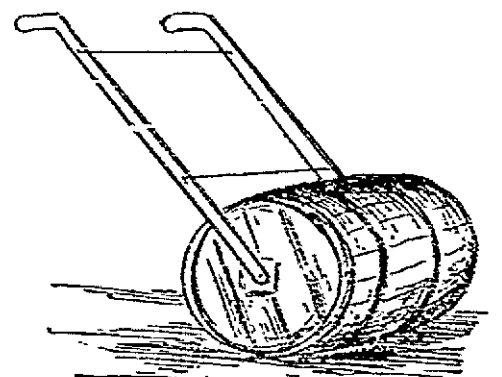

"I believe you, Roger, and sooner would I have died than have become his wife; but it seemed as if my senses were bound, and all that I did was in a mechanical way. Thank heaven, you saved me from such a fate. I shall never forget it, Roger, never."

FARMS AND FARMERS

How to Roll Barbed Wire.

The illustration shows a home-made device for rolling barbed wire which will work well and enable one to handle the wire without trouble. Use any sort of a small barrel and nail the ends in tight and see that all hoops are securely fastened on. On the center of each end or head nail a block of wood thick enough to be above the level of the edges of staves. Through this bore a hole into the barrel. Make handles of material an inch thick, two inches wide and five feet long. Take an iron rod, pass it through the ends of the handles and through the barrel, as shown in the cut, fastening at the ends with a nut. Nail a piece of board across the handles, or use iron bars, if possible, to stiffen the handles, and the machine is complete. Stretch the wire out on the ground, fasten one end to the barrel and then simply roll the barrel over the wire until the latter is wound around the barrel.

Hay in Round Bales.

The cylindrical bale has become very popular for hay and cotton, and many shippers are discarding their old presses to get one that will press it in this form. The standard bale is eighteen fathoms in diameter and thirty-six inches long. The pressure used in packing for home use puts about two hundred pounds in such a bale, but when intended for export they use higher pressure and get in about 275 pounds. A bale put up for army use is but half as long, or eighteen inches, and weighs about 140 pounds. It is calculated that a good pack horse or mule will travel with one of these on each side, and they can go where the army wagons could not. Thousands of tons of these round bales have been shipped to our army in the Philippines, and a large amount to the British army in South Africa. In this form a given weight of hay is compressed into about one-half the space that it occupied in the square bale, and the fact that it does not pack as closely in car or vessel, there being spaces between the bales, which prevents moulding, preserves the sweetness of the hay, and the close pressure in the bale reduces the combustibility. For cotton many of the same advantages are claimed for the round bale, that is, getting more in small space and reducing the danger from fire.—American Cultivator.

Cutting Potatoes for Seed.

Here are some cutting drawings showing how to cut potatoes for seed. In the first case the potato is cut in two pieces: in the second and third, in three and four respectively. By cutting potatoes as indicated about ten bushels of seed are required per acre. Much of the success with the crop depends on starting right. With a good strong growth at the start the battle is half won. The other half of the battle may be won by proper spraying and tillage.

The Strawberry Pests.

The most objection to continuing to keep the strawberry bed in one place for several years is not the exhaustion of the soil, because the fertility can be applied. It is not the matting of the row, because after runners have put out into the paths between them, if they are worked mellow and enriched, the old row of plants can be cut out, leaving the path there, and the new plants can be thinned, if too abundant, and the weeds can be taken out, but insect pests are so numerous now that it may be easier to set a new bed than to try to kill them. There are more than a dozen that are well known, and the root borer, crown borer, stalk borer, leaf rollers, cutworms and grubs are probably those which do the most damage. Nearly every one of these can be found in the soil as eggs, larvae or pupae soon after the fruit is picked, and when any of them have been especially troublesome, we would advise the setting a new bed at some distance from the old one, and plowing up the old bed in August, which will destroy most of them. If any plants are taken from the old bed to set in the new one, wash all soil from their roots before they are set, to prevent carrying the pest to the new bed, and reject all that are not strong and vigorous.—American Cultivator.

Our Farmer Aristocrats.

Tales of sudden wealth are quite common in the famous Kansas and Oklahoma wheat belt; fine houses, modern in every appointment, are the rule; rubber-tired buggies and automobiles are nothing to attract attention. In certain communities even the farmer has grown metropolitan to the extent of building an opera house on a school lot and securing some of the best attractions in the theatrical line. It was not until the present winter that Wichita could afford a guarantee for certain notable singers. Among those occupying front seats were well-known wheat-growers. Farmers' daughters and farmers' sons form a goodly part of the Kansas society element, while piano salesmen look to them for their quick deals. It is nothing uncommon for a farmer to come to town and buy two or three rubber-tired buggies, or even to place an order for an automobile. Mr. D. W. Blaine, a rich farmer of Pratt County, superintends all his harvesting in an automobile. Many others are equally plutocratic.

One of the richest farmers in the Kansas wheat belt is John T. Stewart, who came to the State five years ago. He borrowed $50 from a friend, rented a quarter section of land in Sumner County and began work. To-day he is worth $2,000,000, and his income from wheat in 1901 was $61,000. He is known as the wheat king of Kansas. There are twenty-three millionaires in Kansas, fifteen of whom are farmers living on farms and running them as an investment. Perhaps they have not all of their fortune invested in land, but a goodly portion of it is. Solomon Besley, of Wellington, placed $31,000 in wheat land last year and realized 30 per cent on his investment, or ten times as much as he receives from money loaned in Illinois.—Ainslee's Magazine.

Snowshoes for Horses.

Over the light crust that form on the snow in the dense forests and deep gulches of Northern Idaho the horses of the winter mail carriers make their way on snow shoes.

SNOWSHOES.

These shoes are made with a double thickness of inch boards, the whole about 20 inches long and 14 wide. An indentation to fit the horse's foot is branded in with a hot horse shoe, and an iron clamp, secured by a screw bolt, holds it over the hoof.

Alfalfa on Sandy Soil.

The claim that alfalfa will not thrive on sandy soil is not borne out by experiment. Col. B. W. Richards, secretary of the Laurel Hill Cemetery Company, who has a farm at Hammonton, N. J., has grown alfalfa for several years, and on a plot consisting of white sand. The plot was seeded in August, 1895, and another later. As many as four or five cuttings are secured every season, and from two to three tons of hay per acre are cured. Manure is spread over the land every fall and lime (mostly from burnt oyster shells) is broadcasted. The land has become very productive, and more animals were necessary in order to consume the hay produced. The experiment is a valuable one, as it demonstrates what can be done with alfalfa on the lightest kind of sand.—Philadelphia Record.

In Favor of Sheep.

It is sometimes asserted that cattle and sheep require the same amount of feed per 1,000 pounds of live weight, according to Prof. Curtiss. This statement seems not to be well founded. In some experiments at the Iowa station the cattle consumed 19.6 pounds of dry matter per 1,000 pounds of live weight against an average of 29.7 by the sheep. Both cattle and sheep were on full feed. The sheep made a daily gain of 3.73 pounds per 1,000 pounds of live weight and the cattle 2.14. In summing up this comparison we find that while the sheep are 48 per cent more than the cattle they gained nearly 75 per cent more.

Topdressing Winter Wheat.

In some sections of the country it is a practice to top dress the wheat in the fall, and this regardless of the quantity of fertilizer applied to the field before seeding. This is an excellent plan and should be more generally practiced. The idea is to apply this top dressing immediately after seeding, using a manure spreader arranged so that the manure will be scattered evenly but quite thin. During the winter the strength of the manure is washed down to the roots of the plants while the coarser portion acts as a mulch.

Feed Bulky Food.

Growing animals need bulky food to keep the stomach distended? Why feeding illustrates the point to an extreme. One hundred pounds contain only about seven pounds of solids. The animal therefore must drink and void nine-three pounds of water to get the seven pounds dry matter. While not an ideal food, the growth obtained serves to show a demand for bulk.

OIL FIELD IS BURNING.

Huge Settling Tanks Containing Petroleum Exploded.

Streams of Burning Oil Running Along the Ground—Impossible for Men to Approach the Wells.

Beaumont, Tex., Sept. 12.—The fire in the oil fields is still raging. Higgins' 37,000 barrel tank is burning; Woods' gusher is shooting a column of flame 50 feet high; gas escaping from other wells is burning. The fire has been confined to the Keith-Ward tract, on which all the tanks have been burned. The damage thus far is estimated to be $100,000. A large number of derricks and several pumping plants have been destroyed, much oil has been burned and one gusher continues to shoot up a column of flame. At 2:50 a. m. communication with Gladys was completely cut off.

The fire started in some waste oil along the Texas & Sabine tracks and burned about sixty feet of trestle. This was put under control and it was believed that all danger had passed, but meanwhile the fire in some way had been communicated to the field and a number of huge settling tanks containing thousands of barrels of petroleum have already exploded and others are reported to be in direct line of the flames, which have spread over a wide area already. The ground is saturated with oil.

Keith-Ward Tract Burned Over.

A telephone message from Gladys, which is the station at the oil field, says the whole of the Keith-Ward tract, embracing several acres and containing a large number of wells, has been burned over and it is believed that some of the wells have caught fire, though this is as yet positively determined, as no one can approach to find out.

At 1 o'clock this morning the big tanks belonging to the Higgins Company were burning. Runners have been sent out in every direction for the men who own or represent the companies.

A statement issued yesterday showed that there are still oil wells burning in the field, some of which are buried under earth to safeguard against a fire.

Men Stand Around Helpless.

It is reported that two men were seriously burned. The workmen on the hill are standing about unable to do anything even toward protecting that portion of the field which is not yet on fire.

The agent at Gladys telephoned that the flames seemed to have been nearly stationary during the last few minutes, and unless there are further explosions of oil tanks the fire may be confined to the present burning district. The tank known as the Higgins has blown off its top and the burning oil is running along the ground, and this may be communicated to other tanks.

WOOLEN MILLS DESTROYED.

Fire Throws Two Hundred Men and Women Out of Employment.

Bridgeport, N. J., Sept. 12.—The large factory of the East Lake Woollen Mills Company, which J. Edward Addicks of Delaware is the head, was destroyed by fire today, entailing a loss of $100,000. Two hundred men and women are rendered idle.

Oregon City, Ore., Sept. 12.—Fierce forest fires are raging in the vicinity of Springfield. Houses, barns and many cattle are being burned and the whole country is devastated.

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 12.—Fort Columbia, Wash., is on fire as a result of the prairie fires raging in that part of the country. Many have left here to render assistance.

MONEY STRINGENCY IN WALL STREET.

Associated Banks Have Surplus of Only $4,000,000 Over the Required Reserve.

New York, Sept. 12.—Wall street passed through a tight money squeeze today. Apprehensions of temporary stringency had been visible all the week, the average stock exchange rate on preceding days having been 8 per cent over.

Today loans made on the stock exchange go over until Monday and there was much uneasiness over what tomorrow's bank statement would show. Last Saturday the associated banks reported a surplus of only $4,000,000 over the required reserve.

Demand for call money on the stock exchange began much earlier this morning and there was a crowd of brokers of hand when it started off at 12 per cent. By early noon the rate rose to 15 per cent, with no offerings. Out of town institutions again furnished most of the funds. Later still the price for call loans rose to 20 per cent.

The high price of money had its customary effect upon the stock market. Heavy all the afternoon, stocks broke more rapidly from 1 o'clock on the publication of the figures covering the known movements of currency during the week serving to augment the declines.

KAISER LED THE CHARGE.

Visiting American Generals Participate in German War Maneuvers.

Frankfurt-on-Oder, Sept. 12.—Major-Gen. Young and Brig-Gen. Leonard Wood, with Emperor William, led a charge of 9000 cavalry against the army of the blue this morning.

The charge was one of the most spectacular ever witnessed in German military maneuvers. From a tactical standpoint it was a success, the cavalry capturing thirty guns and 2000 infantrymen. The American Generals, in their blue fatigue uniforms and were specially mounted. The Kaiser rode a white Arab horse.

WEDS A RIFON GIRL.

Rich St. Louis Man Secretly Married in Chicago.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12.—St. Louis society was surprised by the announcement that Douglas G. Kingsland, proprietor of a large iron manufacturing establishment, had wed in Chicago early this week. Mr. Kingsland and his bride yesterday took possession of a handsome suite at the aristocratic West End hotel. The young woman was Miss Laveia Thrice Stone of Ripon, Wis. They met this summer at Mrs. Kingsland's on his vacation at Wisconsin lakes.

PROF. T. S. ADAMS WEDS.

Member of Wisconsin University Faculty Marries at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Thomas Sewall Adams, a member of the faculty of the Wisconsin university, and Miss Elizabeth Margaret Matthews were married yesterday in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church.

YESPER.

The families of C. Otto, C. Summers and Al Fredrick and Mrs. Fredrick of Sheboygan spent Sunday at the Wussow home. They all report a very enjoyable time.

Dan Koch lost his best driving horse last Monday.

Notice.

—The following notice appeared in the Jacksonville, Ill., Courier on March 15, 1902, and will be of interest to many people in this vicinity. Mr. Noah Wellman of Peoria, Ill., for the past fifteen years a trusted employee of the Peoria, Decatur & Evansville Railroad Co., says: "I have tried different cough remedies and have never found any to be equal to Hart's Honey and Horehound for the cure of coughs, and would not be without it at hand. The children like the pleasant taste of Hart's Honey and Horehound and a trial will convince anyone of the special merit of this medicine." Large bottles, twenty-five and fifty cents. Sold by Sam Church, druggist.

BABCOCK.

The Ladies' Aid society elected officers at their last meeting. The new officers are: Mrs. Effie Smith, president; Mrs. Fred Larbus, vice president; Mrs. Sam Griffith, secretary; Mrs. Len Crandall, treasurer.

Frank Lombard is moving his family back to town today. They have been rusticated on the Hopkins farm about one mile from town this summer.

W. J. Shea of Grand Rapids was in our village on Friday to summon the juryman from this town for the fall term of court.

Miss Lillie Grier of Lodi, who has been visiting here for a couple of weeks, departed for home Thursday noon.

Mrs. Henry Grier gave her niece, Miss Lillie Grier, a surprise party on Wednesday evening.

L. Ward, who has been in Milwaukee for the last few days, returned home this morning.

Mrs. W. J. Shea of Grand Rapids is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thos. Law, for a week.

Mrs. Thos. Law has been quite sick but is better at this writing.

N. A. Boucher of Grand Rapids was a Sunday visitor in town.

Water Cure for Chronic Constipation.

—Take two cups of hot water half an hour before each meal and just before going to bed, also a drink of water, hot or cold, about two hours after each meal. Take lots of outdoor exercise—walk, ride drive. Make a regular habit of this and in many cases chronic constipation may be cured without the use of medicine. When a purgative is required take something mild and gentle like Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co. and Wood County Drug Co.

ALTDORF.

(Too late for last week.)

Mrs. Geo. Jones, daughter Viola and Miss Stengline of Ishpeming, Mrs. E. D. Voyer and daughter Lucile, and Miss Belle Voyer of Grand Rapids, spent Friday with Mrs. Nach.

Mrs. J. G. Engel and daughter, Evelyn of Chicago, who visited relatives here and at Grand Rapids, returned to their homes on Saturday.

Mrs. Catherine Steinle and grandson, Rowland of Milwaukee, who have been visiting F. Reusch and family, returned home Friday.

Altdorf had a lively appearance last Saturday and Sunday caused by the teams passing to and from the cranberry marshes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Keys, Mrs. Farhl and son spent Sunday at the Wiphi and Fertel homes.

Mrs. Schlig is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Schultz of Sigel, this week.

Miss Gertrude Zimmerman of Plainfield, is visiting her parents here.

Nick Wirtz of Nekoosa spent Sunday at home.

—How often, after exposure, we find ourselves in the throes of a severe cold, which may be followed by pneumonia. To cure the one and prevent the other take a dose of Hart's Honey and Horehound. Sold by Sam Church, druggist.

RUDOLPH.

Henry Beimler is back from Milwaukee where he has been attending the fair and while there was the guest of his sister. Before going to Milwaukee he attended the wedding of a friend at Brillion.

Dr. Looze was called to see the little girl of N. Marsaw's who was badly burnt some time ago. She seems to be doing nicely, but Tuesday afternoon was taken suddenly ill.

Geo. Hamm drove thru here last Wednesday and he seemed to be interested in the lands about here. We wonder why.

Mr. Penrinea and Mrs. Flinn returned from Milwaukee where they have been attending the fair.

Land buyers are plentiful just at present. It keeps three land agents busy.

A. Chamber is building a new barn. Jacobson & Benson are doing the work.

Mrs. Rood, nee Inga Jacobson is at home for a visit with her parents.

Will Faust of Berlin is the guest of his niece, Mrs. A. Chambers.

Mrs. A. Akey of Biron was visiting relatives up here Sunday.

CRANMOOR.

The heavy frosts of last Thursday and Friday nights killed the gardens and corn in this vicinity and the cranberry crop that was unprotected by water was very seriously injured. A demonstration was made of what could be done with a water supply, as upon marshes having facilities for handling and water to cover up with the berries came out without loss, while the destruction was heavy upon exposed places. The picking is in progress, though more pickers are needed on most of the marshes.

J. W. Fitch, Misses Caroline and Dorothy Fitch and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. McLain and Mrs. Chas. Farrar of St. Louis and Miss Fitch of Louisville, were visitors at the Whittlesey home Wednesday evening.

Another large transfer of real estate was made this week, D. R. and Thos. Rezin selling their marsh property to a Mr. Morey who has been investing quite largely in this part of the county.

O. W. Dodge of Port Edwards spent Thursday morning here, inspecting the improvements being made on his marsh property. Mrs. Allen accompanied him and both were callers at the Whittlesey home.

Miss Myra Kruger and brothers, Charles and Eddie, left Monday morning to resume their school work at Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Houston of Pittsville arrived Tuesday afternoon and will spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Edward Kruger.

James Nash of Nekoosa rode over Thursday afternoon and remained over night with his old time friends, the Whittleseys.

Miss Kittie Cahill left on the morning train Wednesday for a two weeks' visit at her home at Vesper.

Attorney H. E. Fitch and Prof. Wagner of Nekoosa spent Sunday with their friends at this place.

A Parson's Noble Act.

—"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver trouble that had caused me great suffering for many years. For a genuine, all-around cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in Liver, Kidney and Stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction is guaranteed by John E. Daly.

Pleasant to the Taste.

—One of the most important requirements in a medicine to be given to small children should be that it is pleasant to the taste. Bad tasting medicines disturb the stomach, destroy the appetite and it is extremely difficult to get children to take them. The pleasant flavor of Re-Go Tonic Laxative Syrup the certain cure for dyspepsia, constipation, and biliousness, pleases the most sensitive persons and is the ideal laxative for young children. Sold by Sam Church Druggist.

A genuine dramatic company has been organized in this city with E. L. Kromer as dramatic critic. The first production that company expects to put on will be "Way Down East," which is a piece of high artistic merit. The details of the organization are not all complete, but if the company meets with the success that the strength of the cast merits it is entirely probable that they will visit other towns and put on other productions of a high order of merit.

—When wiring your house, for electric lights choose the man who is the most skilled in that particular line. The requirements of an inside wireman are large, as he must be somewhat of a carpenter and know to a large extent how buildings are constructed, must be a "handy man," must be able to use soldering tools and know how to do a neat and clean job. For neatness and workmanship get G. M. Huntington. Telephone 231.

—"In dealing with man, remember that a spoonful of oil will go farther than a gallon of vinegar." The same may be said of children. There is nothing so good for children as the old-fashioned castor oil. However much they may abhor it, it is their best medicine for disorders of the bowels. In the more severe cases of diarrhoea and dysentery however, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy should be given after the oil operates, and a quick cure is sure to follow. Good Clothes, Moderate Prices, Fair Treatment

That is what you get at the Clothing Dept. of Johnson & Hill Co.

We have just unpacked one of the largest and finest stocks of fall and winter clothing that it has ever been our good fortune to receive and we want you to see it. The styles are all of the latest and the cloth is all material that we are not afraid to show the most critical buyer.

Boys Suits from $1 up.

Mens Suits from $2.50 up

We do not claim that these cheap suits are as good as the more costly ones, but we do claim that they are better than you get anywhere else for the money.

Soft Shirts.

We are going to dispose of entire outfit of soft shirts for whatever we can get for them. If you need anything of the kind it will pay you to buy here.

SELLERS OF EVERYTHING.

KID GLOVE SALE!

7 Days

Commencing Sept. 20 to 27

We have succeeded in getting our glove manufacturer (from whom we purchase our gloves) to send several hundred dollars worth of gloves on consignment for a few days, therefore giving us an opportunity to show you as fine a selection of fine imported and domestic Kid Gloves as you could see in any large city, in the country. This will be an opportunity seldom given in towns of this size and we invite all the Ladies to avail themselves of this opportunity and lay in a stock of gloves. You will find everything imaginable in the glove creation and all the popular colors and qualities. Every pair of these gloves are guaranteed and if any are found defective a new pair will be given in their place. Come early and make your selections.

Respectfully Yours,

HEINEMAN MERCANTILE CO.
